

How Controversial Books Chosen Is Explained

By NORMAN COLBY

Two social science courses, suspected by Drummond McCunn and others of being "un-American," actually help Contra Costa Junior College students towards "... an intelligent appreciation of American institutions and ideals that is both deeper and broader than can be expected to result from an isolated study of political institutions by themselves."

This was a major conclusion of a report submitted to the junior college board Monday night by Director Karl O. Drexel.

The report will be studied by board members preliminary to a public presentation on the subject, it was decided.

The two courses, social science 110 and social science 111, were picked by Drexel and his staff members as examples of how a college course is developed, in spite of, or because of, the fact that both courses are under fire.

(See separate story on the board's adoption of textbooks for the coming year.)

The two social science courses are valid approaches to knowledge of American history and political science, said Drexel's report, because, "... the student ... has an improved opportunity to study his political and institutional attachments and commitments as part of his total behavior ..."

"The weeks spent in the particular and specific study of national, state and local government in social science 111 are ... preceded by study in social science 110 of the student himself, of culture, of society, of social forces, social classes, social processes and of a variety of social institutions."

"For this reason, works are utilized which will give students a point of departure for their thinking," said the report.

"It is against this background that students examine their national and state constitutions, the working of their government at all levels, and the persistent, yet changing, threads which, as ideals, ideas, movements and trends, run through the history of his nation and community."

"The exact way in which this is accomplished ... is part of the responsibility and opportunity of the instructor, as it should be," said the report.

"But the desired result is broadly the same in any case—an intelligent appreciation of American institutions and ideals ..."

Drexel's report examined each required book and pamphlet included in the controversial social science courses.

But before that, the report explained how and why there has been an educational trend away from straight textbooks in favor of special materials.

In discussing the initial development of the two courses, the report outlined the limitations of a purely textbook approach, as follows:

"Among the problems to be faced was that of reading material."

"In any college course, the central and controlling factor is a competent instructor."

"Knowing the goals of his instruction, he, in cooperation with his fellows, selects the material that will best serve his objective."

"He (the instructor) never places full reliance on, or permits the objectives to be determined by a so-called 'textbook.'"

"Textbooks came into vogue in American schools in an era of poorly-trained teachers."

"They are becoming less and less the determinants, of course content at all levels of instruction, because of the greatly increased competence of teaching staffs ..."

The report explained that the two courses, like others, were developed with the advice and aid of top-level educational institutions like the Center for Advanced Study in the Behavioral Sciences, Stanford University.

Explaining the later development of the courses, the report notes that, "The standard text, now only partially useful for the purposes of the course, was dropped."

The report said, "The purpose of the second program was to investigate means of presentation of the course with special emphasis on paperback books, both for economy and breadth."

"... The standard text, now only partially useful for the purposes of the course, was dropped. Greater depth and flexibility were supplied by the use of authoritative and special works in the fields to be integrated."

"ALSO INCLUDED ARE WORKS THAT REPRESENT FUNDAMENTAL CHALLENGES TO THE AMERICAN VALUE AND BELIEF SYSTEM." (Editor's capitals.)

"Such exposure is necessary for the critical understanding of institutions expected of students in higher education," continued the report.

"This places even greater responsibility on the instructor and gave him even greater opportunity and flexibility to direct the efforts of students to the course objectives ..."

"It is not suggested that such thorough and painstaking cooperative attention is necessary in the setting up of all courses, but such a course as social science 110-111 could hardly do with less."

The report continued "... At the college level, what is desired is a mature and appreciative understanding of our leading institutions, particularly our political institutions, and a commitment to the ideals of our society."

"... it should and can be appropriately incorporated as an integrating course."

"This has been done by applying certain significant concepts of the various social sciences, especially history, sociology, anthropology and psychology, to the analysis of American institutions."

The report indicates that a Contra Costa Junior College student can meet the state "American institutions" requirements by taking the two social science courses, instead of taking the regular history or political science courses.

The two social science courses meet fully the state education code requirements, said the report, citing the code and the means by which the courses comply.

The 10 books or pamphlets which are required reading in the two social science courses, are then analyzed in the report.

The books required in social science 110 are as follows: "A Primer of Freudian Psychology" by Calvin Hall; "Patterns of Culture" by Ruth Benedict; "The Uprooted" by Oscar Handlin; "The Communist Manifesto" by Karl Marx; "Main Street" by Sinclair Lewis.

"Social science 111: 'A Basic History of American Business' by Thomas Cochran; 'The Worldly Philosophers' by Robert Heilbroner; 'The American Political Tradition' by Richard Hofstadter; 'The Apple Cart' by George Bernard Shaw; 'Bureaucracy in Modern Society' by Peter Blau.

Silva's Vote May Decide on Transit

Rapid Transit ground to a halt this week on the main line, awaiting the word of a fellow named Joseph S. Silva who could either "high-ball" it into full speed ahead or send it into what might be permanent derailment.

Silva is the supervisor from Contra Costa County's fifth district. Next Tuesday, his vote may decide the future of BARTD with the other four supervisors split down the middle—two for and two against the submission of the project on the November ballot.

His one vote—"aye" or "nay"—could echo and re-echo around the entire San Francisco Bay area for years to come. Failure of Contra Costa County to endorse the plan next Tuesday would mean its utter defeat.

Alameda County delayed its voting early this week until yesterday afternoon in order that more of its cities could be canvassed on their reaction. San Francisco County gave unanimous approval at its supervisory meeting.

SILVA ADMITS he isn't quite sure how he will vote. That's what he remarked early this week, when the board delayed any action until later.

Yesterday he was unavailable for further comment. His office merely stated, "He cannot be reached anywhere today."

Asked if he had gone fishing to search his soul for an answer to his voting decision, the woman in his office chuckled but insisted she didn't know where he was or what he was doing.

Supervisor Mel Nielsen of Lafayette insists the delay is only serving one purpose—allowing more political pressure to be put on Silva to influence his vote.

Nielsen and Supervisor Ed Linscheid of Pittsburg both oppose putting the BARTD measure on the ballot.

FAVORING THE measure in the county are Supervisor Chairman Thomas J. Coll of Concord and Supervisor James P. Kenny of Richmond.

The nearest Silva has come to taking a definite stand was when he complained to the other four supervisors that his district stands to get nothing from the Rapid Transit district.

He pointed out that Nielsen's district was a "big winner" in the BARTD plan and yet that supervisor was voting against the project.

Adrian Falk, president of BARTD, told the supervisors that he had the unanimous promise of all members of congress from California that they would support the rapid transit bill before the representatives.

Nielsen denied this. He said he had talked with Rep. John Baldwin from this district and he had made the statement that the federal aid bill would never get out of the public works committee.

Fire District Budget Is Up

The total budget for the Orinda Fire District is $362,021. This is an increase of $44,000 over the budget for the fiscal year ending June, 1962.

"Primary increase is in the salaries paid to the firemen, in accordance with their salary schedules and action by the county board of supervisors last year in granting additional increases," according to the commissions for the district.

COMMISSIONERS are: C. W. Langridge, president; Frank Shirey, vice-president; Gilbert Earle, Zach J. Montgomery, R. W. Aitchison, commissioners. Allen Winsor is fire chief.

"The commissioners gave a great deal of time and study to the budget and feel that it is conservative, but will still take care of the necessary needs for the ensuing fiscal year," said Clarence Betz, secretary for the OFD.

"FROM THE latest available data at Martinez, it appears that assessed evaluation of the secured roll will be $975,000 more during this fiscal year, compared with the last fiscal year. The anticipated increase on the unsecured roll will be approximately $500,000 in comparison to last," said Betz.

By law, the fire district budget must be prepared and filed in Martinez before the end of April.

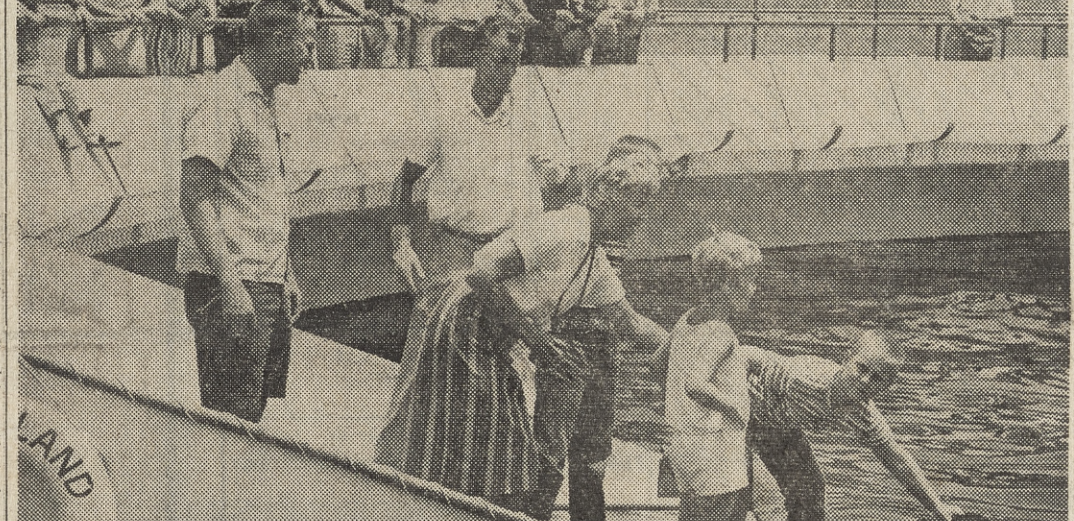

IN AUGUST, the board of supervisors will act as a board of equalization in examining the budget.

"On the basis of past experience, it should pass as submitted," Betz said.

Homeowners Hit Condominium Planners' Study Session To Go Over Plan Tues.

AT MARINELAND of the Pacific—Philip Macheck, 7, shakes hands with Bubbles the whale at Marineland of the Pacific. Looking on, left to right, are his father, Clifford F. Macheck; Marineland trainer Larry Clark; Mrs. Betty Macheck; and the other two Macheck children, David, 9 and Susan, 5. The family, of 4 Corte Del Rey, Orinda, visited the oceanarium on an extended vacation in Southern California, including Disneyland, Knotts Berry Farm, Hollywood and other points of interest.

A letter and petition in opposition to the $6 million condominium proposed by Duffel-Smoother Companies is being circulated among Orindans and Moragans.

It will be filed with the County Board of Supervisors and the Planning Commission before the latter group meets for a special study session Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Hall of Records building, Martinez.

THE PROTEST was prepared by the Ranchitos, a community group representing 100 homeowners in the Ivy Drive area, across from Miramonte High School.

Duffel-Smoother seeks to rezone a 20-acre parcel adjacent to the high school to multiple to build the luxury 303-unit, individually owned apartments.

The condominium request was on the planners' agenda July 10. It was preceded by the presentation of a revised Moraga General Plan by a special 13-mna study committee.

THE COMMISSION continued the hearing for the plan until August 7. They expressed hope of reaching a decision at this closed session.

The condominium was not discussed from the floor at the July 10 meeting. Joe Smoot, partner of the Duffel-Smoother, stated that while his company wanted a decision on their application for rezoning as early as possible, he realized that the planners would want to first study the general plan recommendations.

AT TUESDAY'S study session, the condominium will be discussed only insofar as it affects the general plan, according to the planning staff.

Alternate Plan A, presented by the study committee, includes zoning for the condominium, and also a 120-acre technological research facility site in Moraga Valley.

Representatives of the Ranchitos, Diablo View Estates, Lincoln Estates and Moraga Valley Community Club agreed to unite in a combined effort to oppose the condominium.

The Orinda Association will make a decision as to their stand in this matter at their meeting Monday night.

WARREN MERRILL, Ranchitos president stated that the petition opposed the condominium on four grounds: high density; traffic; decrease in property valuation, and the lack of a need for this type of development.

Merrill said that the homeowners would be for Plan A if multiple zoning were eliminated. There is no way to stipulate the zoning on the general plan except as "multiple".

The study session is public; but not open to comment from the floor.

A survey prepared by Livingston-Blaney, civic and regional planners in San Francisco, urged the rezoning for the condominium.

The report, filed with the planners along with rendering by architect Larry Freels, described the parcel as: "a very good location for this type of development."

County Budget May Add 5 Cents to Taxes

The county board of supervisors unanimously approved a preliminary county budget that will cost taxpayers an estimated five cents per $100 assessed valuation above the 1961-62 costs.

The budget, which has been pared down to a point where most supervisors feel there is nothing else to cut, amounts to $51,659,014, eight million dollars higher than last year.

Included in the upswing is salary increases for county employees slightly higher than one million dollars.

COUNTY ADMINISTRATOR Joseph P. McBrien authorized Howard McNamer, county auditor-controller, to print 400 copies of the preliminary budget before August 10.

Final budget hearings must be held on or before August 20, according to state law, McBrien said.

The $2.40 per $100 assessed valuation applies to all portions of the county except Richmond. Because that city runs its own library system, it is exempt from supporting the county library. Therefore, it deducts the 15.4-cent county library tax rate.

Largest single item in the budget is $24,767,390 for the welfare program. McBrien said this alone accounts for much of the necessary increase over this year's budget.

A GOOD DEAL of the program, he noted, will be paid through state and federal subvention, accounting for a tax increase of only five cents.

The welfare plan includes $7,296,000 for aid to needy children, $4,671,000 for aid to needy aged, and $4,656,090 for operation of county hospital.

The salary raise for county employees provided a $30 a month across-the-board increase for the county's 2550 employees effective August 1.

The board authorized 70 new full-time jobs. McBrien had asked they approve 78, but Supervisor Edmund Linscheid asked that eight jobs in the library department be held up for further consideration.

TWO UNKNOWN factors can affect the tax rate to a small degree. One is the assessed valuation of privately owned public utilities in the county and the other is the carryover balances from last year.

Included in this year's budget is the sum of $75,356 for the Contra Costa County Development Association, with $7800 allocated for an administrative assistant publicity man.

Rotarians Hear Narcotics Talk

The program for the Orinda Rotary Club Wednesday featured Dr. A. LaMont Smith, of the University of California school of criminology. He spoke on "The Narcotic Problem." The club convened at their regular luncheon meeting at Mike Lynn's restaurant at noon.

Dr. Smith described the public's attitude toward the narcotic problem as the "mythful thinking" as to the wishful thinking.

The program chairman was Guido Crossetti. President John Ogden presided.

Board Okays Textbooks; Baldwin Favors Rapid Transit

Contrast Costa Junior College trustees this week approved text books for the coming year, including several controversial publications, and then set up a manner of handling future objections to books selected for classroom use.

The junior college board agreed informally that instructors using questioned texts should also have the opportunity to present to board members the manner in which the texts are being used in the classroom.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: For further background on this vital issue see front page story on development of a college course.)

As for the legitimate objections which may be made against the textbooks in the future, it was determined that they should first be discussed with the director of the college involved after the objection, in writing, outlined his area of disagreement.

KARL O. DREXEL, director of Diablo Valley College, told board members that he and faculty members would welcome the chance to discuss and explain textbook material with any person willing to bring his questions directly to the college.

Trustee Glenn L. Clemetson asserted that "faculty members should be given every opportunity to defend their selection and classroom use of particular textbooks."

Books used in social science 110-111 have been bitterly attacked by the group which supported the recently ousted superintendent, Dr. Drummond McCunn.

The deposed superintendent had made a statement that the school was in danger of losing state aid money because the course could not be used to fulfill the state's American institutions requirements.

ONLY FOUR of the five trustees were present. Former chairman William Kretzmer presided in the absence of the new president of the board, George Gordon. The board members expressed the feeling it was necessary to give approval in order to have the books in time for fall enrollment and acted immediately.

Harmon Howard of Walnut Creek, who was the only trustee opposing the discharge of McCunn, said he wanted to know if social science 110-111 is fulfilling the function that was desired and mentioned:

"All of the texts seem to be slanted one way."

Congressman John Baldwin yesterday said he is personally in favor of a local bond issue to finance a rapid transit system, although he is against federal spending for that purpose.

Baldwin's comment was contained in a wire to Supervisor Mel Nielsen after Nielsen commented earlier that Baldwin was against federal participation.

Baldwin said, "I personally as a resident and citizen of Contra Costa County, would vote for the necessary bonds to finance a local rapid transit system ..."

Let the People Decide On Rapid Transit System

Because Contra Costans stand to benefit as much or more than Alameda and San Francisco County residents from creation of a modern rapid transit system, supervisors of all three counties should let the question of the three-county system bond issue go to a vote in November.

Contra Costa, as much or more a commuter county than Alameda or San Francisco Counties, will not pay for the transit system out of proportion to its local benefits.

Supervisor Mel Nielsen, who represents a commuter area, has expressed doubts because of the preponderance of voting power in the other two counties, which incidentally will carry the heaviest tax burden.

Nielsen's example has encouraged two other supervisors whose districts will not be immediately served by rapid transit.

In this fashion, one supervisor can make a decision for more than a million people, of which he represents only a small portion.

Let the people of the three counties decide if they want to pay for rapid transit. Revision in engineering plans can be discussed before the election, and even afterwards.

He proposes that the voting be by county rather than district. This way, he points out, Contra Costa could get out of the district, if the voters turn the plan down at the polls.

Nielsen also criticized the district's plan for the tube under the Bay to San Francisco. He said the $85-million tube would consist of two tracks that would hardly be used except for the two rush hours periods of the day.

A BETTER plan for the building of the tube would be one that would also allow for cars to travel through and might be the answer to the congestion on the Bay Bridge, he points out.

Nielsen believes that deserves more study. A bigger tube costing more money might save the taxpayers a lot of money in the long run, he points out.

Nielsen said he realizes the need for a solution to the traffic problems here, but does not think the "direct line" transit plan from system from Concord to Walnut Creek to Lafayette to Orinda and then to Alameda County serves the best interests of all residents of the county.

"There is no circulation to serve all the people, but all the people will have to pay for it," he says. And we'll be paying for 10 years before the system is completed.

"Possibly, an express lane for the AC Transit buses might be an answer," he said. Trains would not be that much faster, he claims.

"It would be much easier to clear one lane of traffic for buses than to spend a billion dollars on building rapid transit," Nielsen claimed.

Nielsen's supervisory district will be one of the areas that will really benefit from the transit system. Lafayette and Orinda commuters and shoppers will have stations, but other residents of Nielsen's district in Danville, Alamo and Crockett will not have stations.

AND HE pointed out, there probably aren't more than 25,000 commuters in the whole central county area. The trains would be greatly used in the morning and evening, but in between would be used little."

A more efficient bus service and less people driving their cars to work might help solve the transit problem for Contra Costans—and at a much cheaper price, Nielsen said.

"A billion dollars for 25,000 commuters is a lot of money for taxpayers to spend," he said. "There must be a cheaper way."

Nielsen and the Transit

By GEORGE COLBURN

In an interview yesterday, Supervisor Mel Nielsen told The Sun that he favors "a more feasible Rapid Transit plan that will be less costly to the taxpayer."

He claims that the three-county Rapid Transit plan is unfair to Contra Costa County and favors the metropolitan areas of Alameda County and San Francisco.

Nielsen pointed out that he was greatly in favor of the five-county and even thought the four-county plan might work out. However, he stated yesterday when Marin County dropped out, it left two Metropolitan counties and Contra Costa.

Nielsen points to Alameda and San Francisco's 808,587 registered voters who will "swamp" Contra Costa's 190,000 registered voters at the polls if the plan is approved by the supervisors of the three counties and goes to a vote of the people.

ACCORDING TO April 12 statistics, Alameda has 441,505 registered voters, San Francisco has 367,082 voters while Contra Costa County has 190,588 registered.

Even if Contra Costa voters oppose Rapid Transit at the polls, the required 60 percent majority needed to put the plan into operation could easily be gained in the other two counties, Nielsen said. Thus, Nielsen points out, Contra Costa County taxpayers will have to pay a good-sized tax for years to come for the Rapid Transit they didn't want.

Nielsen thinks a year's delay might be a good idea. He suggested this so that the transit district might again try to add the other counties to the system.

Nielsen believes that other counties (Marin and San Mateo) similar to Contra Costa would give the smaller, less populated areas equal representation on the district's board of directors.

There are four directors from Alameda and four from San Francisco on the board. Contra Costa has three. So, Nielsen points out "we would have to go along with whatever the other two counties want when the district is approved." Contra Costa would have no change against the desires of the two metropolitan areas, he pointed out.

NIELSEN SAID he didn't think a delay would be too expensive to offset the good a larger and more feasible system might bring to Bay Area residents.

Nielsen even suggested that a change in the voting procedure might be desirable.

He proposes that the voting be by county rather than district. This way, he points out, Contra Costa could get out of the district, if the voters turn the plan down at the polls.

Nielsen also criticized the district's plan for the tube under the Bay to San Francisco. He said the $85-million tube would consist of two tracks that would hardly be used except for the two rush hours periods of the day.

School Land Is Becoming County Land

The Board of Supervisors approved a recommendation from the public works department to acquire the fourth one-fifth interest in the Alamo School property on Danville Highway at its meeting this week.

This land, opposite the interchange connection to the new freeway, is required for future county road connections.

The board will be represented by its legal counsel and its consultant for the Contra Costa Water Agency at a public meeting in Sacramento on water resources July 5.

In other business, the board approved orders for drainage, widening and road alignment along Springhill Road in Lafayette.

It set aside a full day for an intensive study of proposed salary increases, and decided to tighten its control over the activities of various consultants hired by the county.

Sunday, Orinda is going to lose a chunk of its male population to Ford Ord. Some of the brave soldiers that are leaving for that hard basic training and those oh! so short haircuts are Johnny Cooper, Roger McCosker, Greg Peterson, Skip Spaich, Doug Rasmussen, Bill Schwark, Don Flenner, John Lathan, John McIntyre, Stan Davis, Bob Clark, Roger Howard, Keith St. Clair, Kip Nelson, and John Trelut.

It seems that every time there is a Park Pool Dance the weather is near freezing and last Thursday was no exception. Some of those there dancing and having a good time in spite of the cold weather were JoAnn Boyson, Bonnie Brooks, Chris Cambell, Brad Peter, Gary McCosker, Julie Winkworth, Roger Howard, Wendy Wilcox, John Reilly, Gayle Baker and Mario Albo, and many of the regulars who come most every Thursday night.

Two lucky Orinda girls, namely Pam Pearson and Sue Nattress, left to visit Hawaii, of all places! It seems that they have been saving for this trip for some time and now they finally made it! Have a ball, girls and Aloha!

JoAnn Boyson had quite a party last week, with many Orindans attending and having a great time. Such as: Pete Boyle, Doug Dermitt, Pat Cambell, Chris Cambell, Ron Macario, Jeanne Quinn, Jane White, Dave Parish, Sue Brown, Keith St. Clair, Karin Nattress, Bonnie Brooks and John McIntyre. They all danced to music coming from the living room, the Hawaiian Room, the patio and the docks!

Carroll Country Club has a new singing attraction—Doug Dermitt and Bob Miller! They seem to have gotten a job there... or have they??

Ann Lincoln is going to Lake Tahoe for three days in the trusty old Lincoln trailer. It's going to be quite a trip with those triplets, huh, Ann?

At the last Orinda Country Club dance was seen some of next year's sophomore class. Those there were Chris Romer and Tom Archer, Donna Peake and Bill Cunningham, Linda Rice and Rick Fiset. They all seemed to have run into a little trouble when they so innocently tossed chrysanthemums in the chandeliers. After escaping that incident they went over to Chris' for a small party.

Santa Cruz appears to be the popular place in beaches this summer. Last Saturday Bill Cooper, Jay Grilli, Bob Miller and Doug Dermitt took a day trip down and seemed to make themselves right at home on their private beach and all! The following day Bonnie Kent and Jackie Edenholm drove down for five days. After the second day they both were near bankruptcy. That Santa Cruz sure can use up the money, isn't that right, girls?

Chrissy Voll has a new job—babysitting at Tahoe! Brian Traynor and Roger Rousseau are having quite an unusual vacation—they are touring Europe with the Y.M.C.A. They will be gone the entire summer as they are going to be visiting a lot of unusual, but fascinating countries. The climax of the trip is the visiting of West and East Berlin. Have a great time, boys and Good Luck!

The Pollack Brothers Circus was not only a main attraction for little kids but also for some Miramonteans; Kay Williams, Den Hall, Sue Fernsten, Dean Hilger, Wendy Minor, Larry Lahmann and Bruce Nickerson and his date. The couples started the evening with a barbecue at Kay's and then managed to get into some reserved seats, after much hiking up aisles and

Winkel Promoted At Crocker-Anglo

Charles L. Winkel, 607 Moraga Way, Orinda, was promoted to assistant trust officer at Crocker-Anglo National Bank's East Bay Trust Department in Oakland, it was announced by President Emmett G. Solomon.

Winkel is a native of Indiana and a graduate of Purdue University. He served for nearly four years in the Pacific area during World War II and is a graduate of and instructor for the command and general staff school.

He began his banking career in 1946 in Utah, joining Crocker-Anglo in August, 1960, as a trainee in the trust department. Three months later he was named a trust representative at the East Bay Trust Department.

The Young Life Camp in Malibu has been invaded by two girls, Barb Bagley and Becky Horne, who will be working there for a month on the Work Crew. Also awaiting their trip to Malibu are Cherie Jackson and Sue Brown.

Tahoe, as always, seems to be "the place to go." Lana Dressler has recently returned from her cabin at Marlo Bay where she enjoyed a relaxing and fun vacation. Kay Williams, Roxie Smith and Karen Stafford spent a weekend full of laughs and water-skiing at the Williams' cabin. John Lacky has also returned from Tahoe and, sad to say, his car didn't quite hold out!

Other teens on vacation or back from them are: Nancy Baker, who is at the World's Fair; Sue Fernsten is on her boat for two weeks at the sloughs; and Nancy Pregar, who is back East visiting her sister.

Anybody for some flowers?? If so, your best bet would be the Flower Bowl in Walnut Creek where Larry Lahmann is working. We hear that friends might get a discount—how about it, Larry?

Rodney Plans Grad. Work at Univ. Hawaii

Leonard M. Rodney, son of Mr. Harry L. Rodney of 55 El Toyonal, Orinda, will begin graduate studies in overseas operations in Honolulu, this September.

Rodney is a graduate of the Oxford University, Oxford, England. He will continue his studies at the East-West Center of the University of Hawaii. He was awarded a two-year scholarship.

The center was established at the University of Hawaii by the U.S. Congress in October, 1960, for the purpose of furthering mutual understanding between the peoples of Asia, the Pacific area and the U.S.

Rodney will be among 250 grantees to arrive at the Hawaiian campus this fall. Americans are awarded grants only if they undertake study programs in overseas operations, Asian studies or in curriculums that have special reference to Asia or the Pacific area.

Loads of new modern phone books are now being delivered in Contra Costa County

Your new phone book has the latest thing in phone numbers. They're all-numeral numbers. But the numbers correspond to the same dial openings as the letters they replace, so dialing itself remains the same.

The country's growing population is the reason for the new all-numeral phone numbers. As more and more families get telephones, usable letter combinations for prefix names are being used up. Going to an all-numeral system throughout the nation will help make enough phone numbers available to keep up with this growth.

All Number Calling has other advantages. It prevents wrong numbers caused by mistaken spelling, such as "CI" instead of "CY" for CYPRESS. It also eliminates the confusion between the letter "O" and the numeral "0" and the letter "I" and the numeral "1." When all telephone numbers are all numerals, the letters can be removed from the dial, making dials easier to read and use.

We've sent you a new number card for your telephone dial that shows your all-numeral number. If you have not received this card, just call Repair Service and another will be sent right away.

You may want to look up the numbers in your new phone book that you call most often and write them in your telephone "Blue Book." If you don't have one of these free personal directories, just call your local business office. We'll be glad to send you one.

LONDON'S BRIDGE'S FALLING DOWN?—Visiting London, members of The Sun's Jubilee Holiday in Europe found the bridge in very good condition. The Contra Costans then toured the ancient Tower of London, where kings and queens were beheaded. A few inspected the crown jewelry, worth millions of dollars. This was part of The Sun tour which took participants to many countries and places of interest in 28 exciting days. (See "Under The Sun" column in this edition, on the editorial page, second section, for an account of the Jubilee tour.)

County to Repair Airport Entrance

The county public works department was authorized to spend $257 for improvements to the Solano Way entrance to Buchanan Field.

The money was allocated Tuesday to make the entrance road safe for individuals who attend ball games at the field, for flood control personnel and for the oil drilling company who used the road as a service road. The repairs are expected to keep the road in good shape for another three-year period, according to Victor Sauer, public works director.

Diablo Power Squadron Plans Overnight Cruise

Diablo Power Squadron, a 156-member of the United States Power Squadrons, is planning an overnight boating cruise to "John the Turk" Island, on the upper San Joaquin River, July 28 and 29.

The outing will be a social gathering for many of the local members and their families who have boats. Plans are to anchor for the night and allow for a barbecue and swim party ashore.

THIS RENDEZVOUS is on a private island where the resident has lived for many years with very little contact to the outside world; raising most of the food and poultry himself.

Local members who are planning to attend are: Squadron Commander Warren Martens, the Nils Walbergs, Don Rasmussen, Harry John Duttons, Victor Saumans, Dick Spragens, Vernon Pattersons, Ted J. Clarks, Edward Saumans, Clyde Kirilins, Landon Fickles, John Loops, Dr. Phil Glaiber, Dr. William Eggleston and cruise chairman Elliot Hartman.

A RECENT cruise and predicted log race was won by Ted J. Clark. Second place to Elliot Hartman and third place to Dick Spragens.

Classes run for 12 weeks and are open to anyone interested. On completion of this free course a certificate will be issued by USPS to those with a passing grade.

WHAT'S DOING

Howard Greenhalgh, your Telephone Manager in Orinda

Safety's always been in style at Pacific Telephone, and today that style features a belt in front. They're the seat belts we've installed in company vehicles—designed not to keep telephone people in fashion, but to keep them in place.

For our safety philosophy is based on the wise old saying, "an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure." While seat belts can't prevent accidents, they can help prevent serious injury should an accident happen.

Matter of fact, telephone people have found this safety idea such a good one, many are installing seat belts in their own cars.

Have you seen the new Bell Chime? It's a telephone bell you can set to call you in any of these three tones: a soft, melodic chime when you want peace and quiet, or when someone's resting; a regular telephone ring; a loud bell you can easily hear when you're outdoors or when there's lots of activity in the house. If you'd like to find out more about the modern, low-cost Bell Chime, just call your telephone business office or ask your telephone service man.

A handy item for traveling is a Bell System credit card. With it, you can make long distance calls when you're away and have them charged to your own telephone number. You simply give the operator the information shown on your credit card.

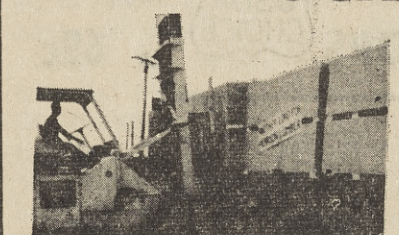

Another handy feature of the credit card is a cut-out slot that can hold a dime so you'll always have one ready for a coin booth. Your telephone business office will be glad to tell you more about these convenient credit cards.

Leave It To The Ladies!

NO APRON strings attached: A passel of pretty ladies lunched along w/the Orinda Chamber of Commerce last Thurs., the purpose of which was to introduce them as some of Our Town's Best Cooks & launch a New Look to The SUN's advertising, starting w/a Cook's Corner series in the Black's Market Ads . . . Watch for it w/your recipe file handy!

Tony Ferreira of Black's & Chamber pres. Ed Amatrone (Sprouse-Ritz man looking very ritzy in a mustard crash-linen coat) shared host duties w/The SUN & Martin White photoged the femmes who weren't wearing aprons & who kindly consented to share some of their most prized recipes.

SINCE I saw the copy first, my recipe box has already been added to & my menus lifted from their seasonal lethargy. YOU can look forward to the Creme de la Creme of cookery, not necessarily the ladies' most exotic culinary works but their favorite tried & true ones that even the most novice cook can carry through.

AMONG THE COOKS . . . Mary Love of Sleepy Hollow (her speaking voice is eloquent) has become notorious & somewhat held in awe since she produced for a recent luncheon an entire salmon fish entombed in a shrine of shimmering aspic a la Cordon Blue . . . Maude White, whose healthy happy children are the proof of the puddings & casseroles their mother does so well, will contribute fine family fare . . . Artisan Betty Coleman (she weaves on a loom (w/one eye on the stove) has a way of lifting recipes from the most POSH places & will pass a few on to you but don't tell anybody . . .

Chosen for the flair w/which she entertains large groups was Louise Rich whose recipe file should be insured by Lloyd's of London, so internationally extensive is it. . . The blonde pageboy head at the table turned out to be NOT Phyllis Diller, but decorator Nancy Foot, formerly of Jackson's, who goes in for Oriental food & decor to match her contemporary glass & redwood house . . . Jan Soubielle, former Orinda Woman's Club president, will play w/a couple of pet recipes. She's so organized in the kitchen she's a guest at her own parties.

NANCY VAN DYNE, pres. of East Bay Children's Theater, has contributed a couple of dandies for company buffet & Madeline Benjamin whose Sunday night sit-down dinners fall into the "dining" category, will share a few of her heritage long-cooking formulas.

Louise Milford (by far the most radiant expectant mother around) has waved her wooden spoon & come up w/some kitchen magic & Kay Marshall has plucked a few plums from her file tho' her specialty is a complete Chinese dinner, The Works, at sit-down affairs for her gourmet husband & guests. Pin Pin Lu (pronounced Bin Bin) charming homemaker, learned to cook only AFTER she came to America since cooking was "not taught us in the gracious old days in China." By trial & improvisation, she's mastered the "proper" Chinese dinner which all their guests, American or Chinese, prefer . . . Tinita Van Duyn, a real Southern Belle, turns out a groaning board as gracious as it is gastronomical. Keep your eye on The SUN. It'll be fun!

Aren't Women Wonderful?

CINDERELLA & Her Pmpkin had nothing on Chris (Romine) Davidson who just happens to be president of her own Chris Card Company. (She IS the company.) When Chris noted the full-page Imperial ad in Times mag, inviting company heads to take a comparison tour in the soigne '62 car, she had her "seety" dash off an official letter requesting same.

Well, By Jove, she got it! Last Tues., Chrysler Corp. obliged, courtesy J. E. French Co., & drove up to Our Fair Lady's doorway w/the sleek, long elegant model which just happens to be an apt description of the tall fair Chris, too. Getting behind the driver's wheel, Chris looked the rather bedazed salesman in the eye & asked facetiously—"When will it turn back into a pumpkin?" It took Our Man some time to get it, but the story HAS a Fairy Tale ending. NO MIDNIGHT deadline for Chris who was seen the next day cruising the suburbs delivering her personalized & toney Chris Cards, Traveling in style, like a President should.

EULOGY TO A Hollyhock: As you know, I DO love hollyhocks & so I wrote that the Henderson's 7-ft. sentry stood guard at their driveway. Jean, surprised to see the flower mentioned right at the head of the col., called Stu to tell him & do you know what Stu had JUST done? A few min. before he'd cut the old-timer down. Lopped her off right at the roots. Too many drivers getting in her way. But I'm not too worried. Hollyhocks reseed & next year we'll have a brand new red beacon at the curve on Loma Vista, wanna bet?

When drama major, play-producer Lid Miles writes a letter, she sets the stage as if for a Pulitzer play. We got a round-robin letter rom Lid who's moved East to Greenwich & we weren't reading about Glenbrook Springs, Colo., were we IN Glenbrook Springs, Lid even had us palpitating through the "airport scene" when she tardily made the plane after mad leaps, dashes & downfalls in runny nylons which had her feeling, even after safely aboard & seat-belted in, as if she was still "running through Colorado." She & Kirk made the detour here to visit son Tom who is doing a stretch in summer theater.

FROM THEIR New York hotel, the Dorset, Lid described the nice rooms as done in Boyesen Champagne & you know darn well she didn't mean Boysenberry . . . A most enjoyable letter. You can line up at the left to read it!

Overheard at The Pink Door: One lady to another emerging from the hair driers—"Gorgeous Day! Why, I can't wait to get started on my Spring Cleaning . . ." Either she's way ahead of the rest of us—or Jimmie's left her under that drier too long.

The Tom Gibsons, John Van Dynes & the Jack Lackeys all went on a big fishing trip together but the only bites the ladies got were the kind that required tetanus shots!

COUNTRY CLOTHESLINE: Bobby Delbert, fetching in a one-strap suit, a Panama hat & a terry robe of her own design to match the chic toast & black swim sarong . . . Helene Robinson sporting good-looking golf garb, chattrouse culottes & a matching floral-print shirtwaist.

That's Elaine Pardini incognito in her little grass shack of a thatched-roof chapecau & we got it all wrong (Baers, bear w/us!) It was curly-topped Denise Baer who sported ICECREAM cones applied to her swim cap. Not real ones, silly!

LUCIE HUPP gathering up the Young Fry of the neighborhood & making the daily sessions of the Folk Song Festival at UC . . . Peg Winters living it up w/a new red convertible. Soon's her Third Time as a Charm of a Grandma! It was hostess Lu Grimes of COURTESY CALLS who clipped & shipped all the Heat Wave headlines to her sister, Mrs. H. W. Ball in Florida. Mrs. Ball guested her in gusty gloomy June & still won't believe a word of it!

NOW FOR THE MEN! It was all Good Luck last Fri. the 13th for Colonel Albert Lane, the tall, distinguished white-haired grandfather of Kelly & Sandy Cutler, who celebrated his 70th B'day w/dinner at Treasure Island O. Club. When the Colonel's B'dy cake was brought in, everybody stood to salute & sing him a happy B'dy. The retired Army officer, who has a mountain in Alaska named after him, was head man during the construction of the Alcan Highway. We salute you, too, Sir!

"A LITTLE TRIP to Milpitas," Bob Williams under a coolie hat from Hong Kong, jokingly refers to his family's extensive junket of China, Japan, the Philippines & Hawaii. They were 5 wks. sightseeing & shopping (for Natalie) & by boat aboard the Pres. Wilson, aloft by speedy jet. Ah So, Lucky!

Another Happy B'day, that special 21-fun salute, for Park Pool's Lifeguard Gordon Hightower who celebed his w/a serenade from his swim fans last Sunday at the pool.

FLASH FROM The Post Office & Laura Mallary's "Lost & Found"—a perfectly good Hoqd-brand heavy white tennis shoe, size 3, has just been found in the parking area, Call & claim & oh, you costly kids!

Family of the Week

THE JAMES HENDRICKSONS

'Anyone for Saki?'

The Jim Hendricksons have their own Teahouse of the August Moon right in their own Del Rey backyard, correction, oriental garden. But their Teahouse is a favorite relaxing spot any month or moon and right now during the hot spell, the attractive spacious retreat is a many-splendored thing. Designed by both Marian and Jim, it is entered by way of a bridge and pond against an oriental landscaped of rocks, pebbles, bonsai shrubs and trees.

WHEN the picture was taken last Sunday, the young Hendrickson girls, Ann, 12½, and Lynn, 7½, had just returned from a trip to Disneyland with their mother and had much to tell their father as all cooled off in the teahouse interior in comfortable muus muus and an hawaiian print shirt for Papa-San.

THE POPULAR well-liked Jim is the long-time proprietor (eleven years) of Orinda Motors garage, a member of the Orinda Rotary Club and an Orinda resident for the past 11 years. Canadian-born, he majored in business administration at U.C., was a Captain in the U.S. Air Corps during World War II and afterwards, decided Orinda and the Garage business was the place for him. The Hendricksons, who celebrated their silver wedding anniversary just last June 11, met when both attended classes on the Berkeley campus where Denver-born Marian majored in Letters & Science. She has worked with local Girl Scout activities in which daughter Ann is active, bowled for the Del Rey Parents' Club team and is a member of Children's Foster Care.

Missing from the picture is an electric chord organ that everyone in the family plays which produces some rousing good song fests from the interior of the Japanese Teahouse. The independent Ann has learned to wield a paintbrush this summer, redecorating her room and little Lynn, who learned to swim during the Red Cross Learn-to-Swim program at Miramonte, served recently for five days as a model swim pupil, she took to the water so well. Sayonara!

Orinda Portrayed

There is vast difference in the way people live in the Bay Area, according to a detailed report brought out in the 1960 U.S. Census.

Statistics compiled in a 404 page book describe Orinda as follows:

POPULATION, 5910, overwhelmingly white, but one-fourth who had one or both parents foreign born, generally from Italy, Canada and England.

Half of the husbands under 45 years old, two-thirds with children under 18, but only one-third of families have pre-school children.

MEDIAN FAMILY income is $12,250. Median adult has 14.3 years education. Median age (including children) is: Males 33.1, and females 32.3.

Most moved to Orinda between 1946 and 1957. Most men are office managers, proprietors, professional or technical salary workers who drive own cars to work in large area almost equally distributed between San Francisco, Oakland, Southern Alameda County and Contra Costa County.

HOME HAVE median value of $27,900 with 5.1 rooms to the house and 3.6 persons to the family. Most houses were built in 1950s and have warm air furnaces. Most are sound owner-occupied homes with more than one bathroom.

Youths Attempt Arson at Acalanes Summer School

Two youths attending summer session at Acalanes High School are suspected of attempted arson after sheriff's deputies found evidence of scorched walls in the faculty men's rest rooms last week.

The boys, who complained earlier about headaches, were sent to rest in the faculty lounge. Later, teachers found evidence that the boys and two accomplices had damaged furniture and stuffed pads of ignited paper into corners of the room in an apparent attempt to burn the walls.

Fortunately, the flames died out before they could do more than just scorch the walls, officers said.

JUVENILES WERE also suspected as the responsible for the acts of malicious mischief committed at the home of Edward Rotticci, 14 Snowberry Lane, Orinda, Monday evening.

Entering through a hole cut into the screen of a sliding glass window, the suspects ransacked bedroom closets and drawers, cut TV antenna wires, dumped clothing on the floor and damaged furniture, officers said.

Print smears left by the culprits indicated small fingers, according to deputies.

In other crimes this week, $119 worth of liquor was stolen from the week-end summer home of Anthony Atases of Oakland, at his vacation home at 906 Irene Lane, Lafayette, some time Sunday.

Hats Off To...

Kevin Merrick, Tennis Pro at Country Club

A SILVER LOVING CUP (full of monogrammed tennis balls, please) for Kevin Merrick, Tennis Pro and "Cover Boy" of Orinda Country Club, who coaches the children and champs not only in the racquet game but in all the fine attributes of good sportsmanship.

Lauded by many mothers of his pupils, Kevin is praised as the epitome of good sportsmanship—never one to lose his temper, always ready to listen and patient with the young sports. His forthrightness, fairness and sports decorum and manners rub off on the youngsters . . . and he calls them "a wonderful bunch of kids . . ."

THE SANDY-HAIRED six-footer is exceptional in looks, pristine in his white stiffly-starched tennis garb, deeply-tanned from being out on the courts all day and as one member put it—"He should be on the cover of Sports Illustrated" so much does he image the typical American sportsman.

Berkeley born and raised, Merrick attended U.C., played on the varsity tennis team, took his first job teaching tennis at Claremont Country Club and thereby launched his tennis pro career. He came to Orinda Country Club six years ago and is also on the faculty of College of Holy Names as well as the High School where he instructs young ladies in the rudiments of the racquet game.

HIS OWN NET GAIN at the early age of 32 are the four young children (the oldest is six) to whom he and his wife Eleanor play the parental role at their Pleasant Hill home. On the courts as early as 8 a.m. and staying through 'til dusk sometimes, Kevin still finds time to occasionally get his tennis-buff wife Eleanor out on the courts.

Currently, Kevin is being congratulated on two of his tennis players who copied top honors in the recent Pacific Coast Junior Tourney—Lynn Abbes, who emerged as champion of the 14 Girls Single and Geoff Rieser who won triumphs in 14 Boys Double.

Jim Barcelon Is Head of Group on Park for Moraga

All of the service groups of Moraga Valley met recently to discuss the possibility of forming a park and recreation district.

Among those present were representatives of the following Moraga groups: Lions Club, Community Club, Parents Club, Horsemen's Club, Newcomers Club, volunteer firemen, and Republican Women.

JIM BARCELON, Lafayette realtor and a resident of the Rutherford Park area, was elected president of the Moraga Park and Recreation District Committee. Yvonne Mauzey was named secretary.

Charles Wright was named chairman of the committee to determine technical points. Jack Taylor heads the group to recommend nominees for board of directors of the district.

A QUESTIONNAIRE is being prepared to determine whether the formation of such a district would have the backing of residents and organizations.

Formation of a district is being investigated for the initial purpose of acquiring the land surrounding Old Moraga School for park facilities.

IN ORDER to get the formation of the district on the ballot, 25 per cent of the voters of the last gubernatorial election must sign a petition. A two-thirds vote is required in order to issue bond.

The district would be governed by a board, elected by voters.

The following steps also would have to be taken: five members elected to board of directors; tax ceiling set; ceiling on bond issue set.

IF A DISTRICT IS FORMED, it could purchase the old Moraga School site. Under state legislation, the school board can authorize the sale of the condemned school to a public body.

Moraga Memo

By JANE PUTNAM

The 49'ers are in bloom again

TODAY, FOR THE SEVENTH consecutive season, the giants (with a small "g") will invade our valley—and decorate it until September. "Red" Hickey's S.F. 49'ers are back to practice at St. Mary's.

For the first time, they have changed their residence on the campus, which we're hoping will change their luck. They're moving into De La Salle Hall, the center building, instead of their customary Aquinas Hall.

This afternoon, the giant 49'ers get their final check-ups from the doc (even as our wee ones). The survivors will suit up (how about THAT for sports jargon?) and a few ambitious ones will toss the ball about and tackle each other. Do not play too rough, boys.

Tomorrow, "Red" will start working the giants out "for real."

It's rather like a homecoming. We're getting to know them, although, to me, they all look like Leo Nomellini on the playing field. There must be an easier way to find gold than digging up that turf, fellas.

Welcome, "Red." Welcome line coach Mark Duncan; end coach Gordy Soltan; business manager Roy Gilbert, scout "Pappy" Waldorf, and the rest of the 49'er mentors. Also welcome to all of you Nomellinis.

(It simply cannot be time to start airing out our raccoon coats yet—simply can it be?)

FRIENDLY FIREMEN. Three separate examples of service "above and beyond" were reported to us by grateful citizens recently. In the county of instant gripes, it's nice to pass along these quick kudos.

ORINDA: When the Reids of Orinda lost their two-and-one-half year old son, Graham, they called the OFD. The youngster wandered off to the hillside adjoining his backyard, and was gone for over an hour. "Due to the efficiency of the fire department, the general search was organized immediately, not only with our close neighbors participating, but those who were complete strangers as well," wrote Mrs. Reid. "Please extend our most grateful thanks for Graham's safe return."

LAFAYETTE: Retired Oakland Police Inspector Eugene Murphy and Mrs. Murphy have lived at 638 Glenside Drive for the past nine years. While Murphy was getting a haircut one of the recent hot days, his wife checked the heater to find that it had turned itself on, and she couldn't shut it off. Within minutes after the LFD was called, Chief Winkel, Lieutenant Wright and Engineer Frost of Fire House No. 3 responded and took care of the trouble. "Very few people realize the good work our firemen do and I'd like to give them a little boost," said Murphy.

MORAGA. A working mother was writing her column for The Sun one day when she received a call from home. "Help! Help! The mallard is drowning!" Our five-year-old Mark was near hysterics. Having no car, I called Chief Baits of the MFD, who allowed fireman Bill Orland to rush to the scene. Orland probably knows more about ducks and geese than anybody in the valley, so Mark's quieted down. Artificial respiration for the young mallard wasn't applied. It was d.o.a.

As long as we have fire depts. like this, there's hope.

KITTENS, ANYONE? As a special bonus to my readers (who DESERVE SOMETHING) we are having a contest this week. The first four readers who call me at 284-4444 and can define "Condominium," will be awarded four valuable prizes. 1st prize: a fluffy blonde kitten. 2nd prize: A blonde kitten. 3rd prize: a fluffy gray kitten. 4th prize: a skinny gray kitten.

A GETTIN' TO KNOW YOU party is in store for the Moraga Newcomers, Clubbers. The coffee for new residents to the area will be Tuesday at 10 a.m. All interested in discovering the aims of the club are invited. The further info, call Mrs. Richard Avery, 376-4173. The coffee will be at her home, 1059 Larch Ave., in Orchard Dell. The social club has over 50 members, who can testify to the group's good times.

CARROLL CAPERS—at the country club these Thursday evenings, there is a Twilight Two-Ball. Husbands and wives draw for partners. Spouses and lousers aren't allowed to play together. Recent winners were: Low gross—Clarice Green and Sam de Franco. Low net—Eleanor Clark and Don Campbell. Refreshments are served on the fifth hole. It must get pretty crowded with everyone eating on such a teeny hole.

Golf Pro Sam Dickey has a good turnout for his group lessons for children on Fridays at CCC at 11 a.m. Dickey, a real pro in every sense of the word, thinks that Mike Marini, age 7, shows promise. Mike is the son of the restaurateur Buster Marini.

Tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. is the big Hawaiian luau at the clubhouse. Nadine Harrison finally collected enough palm leaves for the decorations. Audrey Simpkin of Scofield Drive, DR 6-4088, is in charge of reservations. Others who have worked hard to make the affair a success are Lillian Smith, Lorraine Fisher, Eleanor Clark, Mary Ridenhour, Kathleen Pilling and Edith Reed.

COMPETITOR CAEN of the Chronicle was right again. Erskine Caldwell HAS moved to Orinda, and not Moraga. He DOES have a box in the Rheem Post Office; and we wish to call his attention to a very unusual item which we have been saving and saving for the right opportunity. Ready? Next time you go into the Rheem P.O., Sir, look at the fixtures. Imported

School Tax Is up 25%

Moraga School District trust, $1.93 to $2.18 per $100 assessed valuation.

THE BUDGET totals $281,585, an increase of $34,557 over last year's budget. However, $12,070 of the increase is for debt service and is paid for out of a special increase of 25 cents from official purpose tax.

The governing board is utilizing every opportunity and resource to keep costs low, but consistent with the desires of the people of Moraga for quality education," said William Knight, superintendent.

KNIGHT SAID that the major factors which contributed to the increase were as follows: A loss of growth money through a change in apportionment. A school population increase of 30 per cent over 1960-61, causing an increase in the faculty. Increase in the cost of supplies and equipment to keep pace with the growth.

"IN ADDITION," said Knight, "the education program has been broadened to include a full instrumental and vocal music program and accentuated science program with participation in National Defense Education Funds as well as consultant services.

bad; and to rezone the land back the way it was would constitute spot zoning.

Planning Director Thomas Heaton stated that the planning commission had instituted a rezoning hearing after Carroll had complained about a possible misunderstanding.

"I FEEL THAT Carroll had been told all the facts," Heaton said. Patterson argued that there was a later change after the original rezoning which gave the Rheem property across the road more multiple zoning.

This statement was true so far as land area was concerned, according to Planner Anthony Dehaes. He pointed out that Donald L. Rheem had exchanged high density multiple got low density garden apartment zoning.

"The density is what makes the difference to the property owner financially," said Dehaes.

from S.F., they are from the Republican Convention when Eisenhower was nominated at the Cow Palace. We have Rheems of other such little unwanted and insecure facts in our files.

PLACES AND FACES. The William "Chris" Christiansens have moved into their beautiful new home at 103 Devin Drive. Mary and Bill have three daughters: Linda, Suzie and Nancy. Bill owns the Valla Tire Company in San Leandro.

Three neighbors in a row on Rheem Blvd. recently went to the Seattle World's Fair: the Clarence Evanses, the John Brogans and the Graig Foulkes. And Emile "Frenchie" Doublet returned from the Fair with daughters Linda and Mickey. Third daughter Jackie is spending the summer in the Islands with her grandparents.

Out of the 9000 who attended the Brentwood Carnique, Tom Carroll and Gena won the pale yellow Corvair. First brand new car for them . . . Mrs. Charles Drugs Ferreira (Connie) recently joined the county auxiliary to the Pharmaceutical Women's Society . . . Donna (Mrs. Ralph) Graham, model and mother, is making a successful at-home career in the import biz. One of her most successful items is an electric pepper shaker.

JUST WONDERING, if Erskine Caldwell had set "God's Little Acre" in Rheem, would it have been rezoned for multiple?

Keep FRESH DELICIOUS milk on your table

Keep milk on your table and two good things happen. First, your favorite foods taste even better. More important, your meals are more likely to be balanced in essential nutrients. Milk supplements the nutrients you get from meat, vegetables and cereal foods. That's why milk and dairy products are one of the four basic food groups you need daily for balanced nutrition. Remember, you never outgrow your need for the nutrients in milk. Drink three glasses every day.

EAST-BAY PRODUCERS "MILK COUNCIL"

"WE ALSO have an outdoor education program in the Sierra through the cooperation of the Orinda School District; implementation of the main program through an expansion of the geometry offering at the fourth grade level; and the inclusion of a language laboratory for instruction in Spanish and listening skills in the fifth through eighth grades."

People are exasperated by poetry which they do not understand and contemptuous of poetry which they understand without effort.

The eternal nature of true beauty and goodness will be emphasized at Christian Science church services on Sunday.

Opening selections from the Bible in the Lesson-Sermon on "Life" will include these verses from Psalm 86: "How excellent is thy loving kindness, O God! therefore the children of men put their trust under the shadow of thy wings. They shall be abundantly satisfied with the fatness of thy house; and thou shalt make them drink of the river by thy pleasures. For with thee is the fountain of life: in thy light we see light."

Readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include (p. 246): "Life is eternal. We should find this out, and begin the demonstration thereof. Life and goodness are immortal. Let us then shape our views of existence into loveliness, freshness, and continuity, rather than into age and blight."

Full Speed Ahead In Tunnel Region

Caldecott tunnel was the focal point of construction activity in East Contra Costa County this past week as work resumed on the new bore, first steps were taken on an interchange near Orinda and workmen brought light to the old highway shaft through the mountain.

While workmen were resuming construction on the new tunnel following the settlement of the recent strike, clearing operations began on the nearly $7 million project for an eight-lane freeway from the tunnel to Orinda and the future Gateway Boulevard.

As for the lighting development, the tunnel is receiving a complete replacement of light bulbs and fixtures are being washed with one lane being closed from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. this week. Highway officials said fluorescent fixtures would be installed when the new tunnel is completed. They will cost about $200,000.

THE NEW freeway construction is expected to be completed in February of 1964, with 400 working days allotted to Fredrickson and Watson Construction Company and the Granite Construction Company.

A new interchange will be constructed just west of the Upton Quarry as a connection to the future Gateway Boulevard to be developed by Contra Costa County, and ramps will be revised in the vicinity of the existing east portal of the tunnel to facilitate turning movements in this area.

The site of the work lies in a narrow canyon, flanked by high cliffs, with the alignment of the new construction closely following the existing five-lane highway. Heavy traffic on this highway precludes any extended road closure which would aid the contractor in expediting the work. For this reason, the project is divided into stages of partial construction requiring traffic to be shifted at various times to accommodate operations.

The first phase of work will

Gail Fox Is on Dean's Honor List

Gail Fox, a senior in arts and science at Gonzaga University, received first academic honors on the Dean's List.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Fox, 118 Las Vegas, Orinda, and received a grade point of 3.71 out of a possible 4.00 at the Jesuit University in Spokane, Washington.

be construction of a detour at the easterly end of the project near Orinda, allowing work to begin on installation of a large longitudinal storm drain, followed probably next year by grading on the hills at the west end of the project. Motorists are cautioned to be alert for warning signs and flagmen while the work is in progress.

Community Center Drive Will Begin Next Month

Four area chairmen for the September house-to-house drive of the Community Center project were named at a meeting Monday night.

Mrs. James Boyce, Field Group chairman, named Mrs. J. Richard Johnston, Mrs. Andrew M. Kelly, Mrs. Clayton Van Wagner and Mrs. Richard S. Lesser as four of her assistants for the coming drive.

Six more area chairmen will be named this month. General chairman James Dinwiddie said the 10 area chairmen will have to utilize almost 500 women in order to contact all homes in the residential areas of Lafayette.

THE HOUSE-TO-HOUSE drive is scheduled to begin September 11.

Mrs. Johnston, 840 Broadmoor Court, will be in charge of the Glenside area. Mrs. Andrew Kelly, 1133 Laurel Drive, will head the Valley View Estates drive.

In Lafayette Acres, Mrs. Van Wagner, 1073 Miller Drive, will direct the drive. In Hidden Valley, Mrs. Lesser, 17 Hidden Valley Road, will direct operations.

Jack Schneider, chairman of the business area drive, said Monday that his phase of the campaign will take place the last two weeks of August.

The public drive for financing of the proposed community center hopes to raise $300,000.

The Community Center, Inc., already owns a parcel of land on St. Mary's Road — and the building, 12,000 square feet, will be built on this site.

Dinwiddie said the campaign headquarters at 3633 Mt. Diablo Boulevard is open every day.

She Sells Sea Shells

We've watched clam diggers at work at Pismo Beach, Bodega Bay and even haunting the muddy stretches near Martinez with fork and bucket but when this ad appeared in The Sun recently it excited our hopes and upset our equilibrium:

GIANT clam shells, nearly 3 feet across, also smaller ones. 233-66269.

Where in the world would clam shells that size come from? Certainly not California. Nor were there any oversized clams on the beach near Corpus Christi despite the Texas penchant for doing things big.

A telephone call to the number in The Sun want ad gave us the answer—they were from an island in the Pacific. "How in the world did you happen to acquire them?" we asked the voice on the other end of the line, which, it turned out, belonged to Mrs. M. H. Weed of 3494 Moraga Road in Lafayette.

"My uncle brings them to me," she replied. Then at our surprise over such a gift instead of coral beads, hula skirts or ukuleles, Mrs. Weed explained: "Uncle Stan is the skipper of a freighter which goes into Pacific waters all the time. Once, when he was visiting us, I mentioned I would like to have something different with which to decorate our yard and patio. The shells are the result!"

Captain Stanley Janislawski brought something definitely "different" when he returned from his next voyage. Not just one or two shells from the giant clams of Kwajalein—but nine of the monstrous bi-valve casings were unloaded on the docks at Sausalito.

"We've just about used all we can in every possible manner and that's why we ran the ad in The Sun," Mrs. Weed explained.

The Lafayette housewife gave photographer Bob Rush a tour of the grounds and posed beside two of her favorite clam shells as pictured here.

"What we couldn't use we sold," Mrs. Weed explained. "We only charged $25 for each side of the shell."

Pondering the price, we were told that these shells bring $1 to $1.50 per pound on the open market for decorations and they weigh about 80 pounds apiece. Twenty-five dollars proved to be a bargain price!

Protecting Teeth on Gridiron Is Objective

Complete elimination of all dental injuries due to football—that was the object as high school coaches and dentist coordinators met last week.

The Contra Costa Dental Society in cooperation with schools and coaches is setting up a series of schedules for mouth protector fittings for all football players.

Mouth protectors provided by the athlete will be adapted to each individual player's mouth by local dentists.

Dentists are donating their time and facilities as a public service. To take advantage of the program being set up, the football player must appear at the time scheduled by his coach.

Mouth protectors—similar to those worn by prize fighters—are mandatory for football players whose schools are affiliated with the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations. The Junior College Athletic Association and the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics also require mandatory mouth protectors.

For the past three years mouth guards have been fitted as a public service by members of the Contra Costa Dental Society to all who desire them and appear at the scheduled time. No dental injury has yet occurred to a player while wearing his mouth protector.

County-wide chairmen for the Contra Costa Dental Society program are Dr. Aaron Fox, Pleasant Hill, and Dr. Leonard Schmitt, Concord. Dental coordinator for the Walnut Creek area is Dr. Leon Schneider, Acalanes Union High School District.

Museum To Hold Fair

Whatever your interest in natural science may be—animal, plant or mineral—you're certain to find it on display at the Diablo Junior Museum's 8th Annual Science Fair.

The date is Saturday, July 28, and an invitation is extended to the public to view the exhibits. Admission is free and the place is the multi-use room of the Walnut Creek School on Walnut Boulevard off Ygnacio Valley Road in Walnut Creek. Hours are from 10:30 a.m. until 2 p.m. The students enrolled in both the Junior College course and the workshop program have been busy assembling their displays which will be judged by instructors Ferd Ruth and Gene Goslin.

JUDGING will be based on quality of material, neatness, accuracy and scientific attitude and development of works done entirely by the children themselves. Prizes will be awarded at 1 p.m. and will include live animals such as mice, turtles and snakes.

A food booth will have coffee, punch, hot dogs and doughnut holes. The booth will be staffed by members of the Junior Museum Alliance under the direction of Mrs. Matt Connolly with assistance from Mrs. Frank Clapp, Mrs. Carl Helmholz and Mrs. John Floyd.

In addition to Ruth and Goslin, responsibility for the Open House and Science Display rests with Mrs. Jack Eymann, Mrs. Perry Conner, Mrs. Gus Spilker, Mrs. Harmon Howard and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Young.

For convenient storage of garden tools, design one outer wall of the carport as a tool house. Doors should open to the outside so equipment is accessible when car is in carport. Frame storage wall with 2x4s and use either Douglas fir or western red cedar siding.

Few Places to Hide If Atom Blast Comes

If an atomic explosion occurs in the central county its residents have only one alternative—find the safest spot in their own home and start praying.

That was the indication yesterday as the state entered the second phase of its national fallout shelter survey while local disaster leaders were trying to figure out the results of the first phase here.

Only three stores in Walnut Creek, plus a moving van warehouse, have been considered as shelter areas and permission to use the four has not yet been completed.

AT THAT, they give the community an edge over its neighbors.

No suitable shelters have been found in Orinda, Lafayette, Danville or Pleasant Hill with the possible exception of the latter city where engineers are studying the new Montgomery Ward building to see if it can be utilized—providing permission can be obtained.

Asked what steps should be taken if disaster should strike now, one official suggested humorously: "Run to the nearest bar and hope that it has a rathskeller."

In a more serious vein, Will H. Perry Jr., county disaster director, bemoaned the lack of shelter area in this region although he pointed out that "there are some shelters available to house less than 50 persons each, the minimum requirement for public designated shelters."

Perry explained: "Not all potential locations are available to traffic. For instance the Somersville Mines near Antioch would provide perfect protection but are almost inaccessible. In other cases, some building owners may not want to co-operate in the program."

press this week that Phase I had been completed. That is the initial period when existing buildings and other facilities suitable for shelter are located by private architectural and engineering firms. Jonas is state disaster office director.

Perry said this was true here but failed to come up with any list of sanctuaries. He said, as did Jonas, that we are ready to go into Phase II.

Here's what that part of the program contains, as set forth in the state communique, giving due credit to being handled under the auspices of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and the Navy Bureau of Yards and Docks:

1. Architect-engineer teams will make detailed studies of space, habitability and other factors in suitable buildings identified in Phase I.

forms permitting their use as shelters will be asked to do so.

3. Shelter Use Plans for individual group shelters will be prepared.

4. Shelters will be marked with black and yellow signs.

5. They will be stocked with food, medical supplies and other equipment.

JONAS REPORTS that the government (federal) has indicated that Phase II is expected to be completed by the end of this year.

Apparently a disaster will touch off one of the greatest foot races in history since Jonas admits existing buildings can provide for only about one out of every six residents of the state.

The state disaster office admits there are no figures yet on the number of Californians who could be sheltered in mines, caves, tunnels and other special facilities.

About Those Salary Raises

If the County Board of Supervisors is going to make a habit of raising its employees' wages "across-the-board," it should then consider revising its salary policy, adopted last April. Such policy calls for a percentage increase, allowing larger increases for the more responsible positions.

If the supervisors feel that the lower echelon employees are not receiving enough money, they should consider reviewing the existing salary structure, and adjusting the lower wages upward for greater equity.

This requires study of individual positions, not an across-the-board panacea.

THE FLAT increase of $30 recently adopted by the supervisors by a 3-2 vote merely gives the lower employees a bigger percentage increase without tackling the question of just how much greater an increase is due them.

In addition, the county salary policy has been violated only three months after its adoption, eliminating the five per cent differential between pay steps.

Apparently the $30 raise per month for all employees, whether mighty or menial, is a compromise which left at least two supervisors unhappy.

There has been comment that the new pay raise also places such positions as clerk-typist and porter far above their equivalents elsewhere in the state.

IN ANY EVENT, The Sun feels that salaries awarded to Contra Costa County employees before the raise were more than "competitive" with private industry, and a vague statement by one supervisor that they may "hold the line" next year is little consolation to the taxpayer.

Can it be shown that salaries as they stood before the raise were not "competitive" with industry?

This again appears to be a case where the county supervisors yielded to pressure, forgetting that taxpayers by the hundreds of thousands are watching and many of them have long memories for such costly decisions.

Before any more "across-the-board" increases are offered, let the supervisors reconsider the equities of the wage differentials.

And before any more wage increases are given, let the supervisors show that present salaries are not "competitive."

Tippling By Teen-agers

The idea of anyone providing our children and young adults with narcotics is enough to make many local residents say, "Anyone caught at it should be given the death penalty."

But some of those who hold this strong opinion about narcotics peddlers are the same parents who often provide liquor at home for their teen-age children and their friends.

State Attorney General Stanley Mosk said recently that beer, wine and whiskey are the major contributors to juvenile delinquency in California, and some 85 per cent of the 17,000 juvenile delinquents in California Youth Authority custody got their start from drunkenness — of their own or friends or relatives.

Mosk was also critical of a few television shows which depict the hero lawman gulping down a few beers or drinks before going after the bandits.

He added this is the measure of liquor's social acceptability, since no program anywhere would depict the lawman "taking a fix, hypodermic needle in hand," before hitting the trail.

Most of us tend to be lenient in our attitude towards alcohol, forgetting the sorrow it has caused us or our friends or relatives. Few persons have not been touched at least indirectly by a tragedy related in some way to consumption of alcohol.

The answer? We don't know. But let's face it—alcohol is a danger to us as long as we use it, and that danger is multiplied several-fold when nearly-grown children, full of pseudo-sophistication, and a tendency for excess, begin their tippling.

A Possible Life Saver

Serious consideration should be given by the County Board of Supervisors to the proposed law which would forbid the sale of ammunition to a person under 18 years of age. There have been several recent local tragedies which indicate that such a law may save lives in the future.

The ordinance would not necessarily conflict with state law allowing a youngster to obtain a hunting license at 16 years of age, since presumably, a father or relative could procure ammunition, increasing the likelihood of adult supervision.

Also, a minor child may purchase the ammunition with the written consent of the parent.

The supervisors, who requested that the ordinance be prepared by the district attorney's office, will hold hearings in a few weeks, allowing opportunity for various hunting clubs, gun fanciers and parents with gun-fancying children to be heard.

Would our local stores want to sell ammunition to children whose parents would disapprove?

A Second Look

Educators feel that the reason why California voters didn't provide support for "Proposition No. 3" was a failure to make clear that 80 per cent of the $270 millions in bonds would go for higher education, namely expansion of the junior college system.

The consensus is that most people in voting against the proposition thought they were voting mainly against financing for correctional institutions, mental hospitals, veterans institutions and the like.

There seems to be little doubt that a tremendous load will fall upon the state's junior colleges in the next few years, and a failure to build that system will have far-reaching consequences for hundreds of thousands of young men and women.

First a Figure-Then A Fight

By NORMAN COLBY

How do workers in a minority party, like the Republicans in Contra Costa County, find the incentive to put on a strong campaign, like the one they plan to wage before the November election?

They count upon a mighty turnout of their own believers and considerable support from dissenters from the opposition party. This was the word passed recently by Sam Conti, Contra Costa's Republican Central Committee chairman.

The Republican will to win is strong, said Conti, since 70 per cent of the 72,000 registered Republicans turned out to vote in the June primaries, compared to only 53 per cent of the 113,000 Democrats.

OTHER FIGURES look favorable to Conti.

Governor Edmund Brown polled 52,000 votes, while some 8500 votes went for three other Demo candidates. Conti is betting that most of those 8500 voters will vote Republican in November.

On the other hand, Richard Nixon got 34,000 votes, and Joseph Shell got 16,000 votes.

Shell's 16,000 votes and most of the 8500 dissident Demo votes will go over to Nixon, and this should give the Republican nominee almost 59,000 votes compared to 52,000 for Brown, notes Conti.

IF THE primary is any indication, the Republicans should be able to make a fight of it in the Assembly races, says Conti.

Jerry Waldie, the popular and well-known young 10th District assemblyman from Antioch got 28,000 votes from the Demos, but David Fisher of Pleasant Hill got almost 20,000 Republican votes.

Similarly, John Knox of Richmond, the 11th District assemblyman, got 27,000 Demo votes, but an unknown, John Anderson of Orinda, collected about 20,000 Republican votes.

Republicans can also look to the heavy county write-in vote for both Nixon (1900) and Shell (2900) and to the repeated successes of Republican Congressman John Baldwin who is now able to concentrate on Contra Costa since his district no longer includes Solano County in addition to Contra Costa.

LOOKS LIKE the Republicans will make a real battle of it, come November.

If they ever consider taking a day off they can look again at the registration figures—72,000 Republicans, 113,000 Democrats.

Starting with that basic statistics, the Democrats can probably whip up some pretty happy predictions of their own.

But they won't be napping either.

Now that the Lafayette Youth Association program for the summer is once again in full swing, the board of directors would like to take this opportunity to thank the following:

First, the Acalanes High School District for their fine cooperation and use of their facilities in the operation of our program.

Secondly, we would like to thank the sponsors of the baseball teams for without their financial assistance we would not be able to operate our summer program.

Also, we would like to thank The Sun for the fine coverage they have continually given the Lafayette Youth Association year after year.

Finally, we would like to thank the dads who have given up so much of their valuable time to coach and guide the young men of our community.

Lever Is Important

Although automotive engineers have designed the frames of most modern cars with the average American male in mind, that mythical man who is exactly five feet nine inches in height and exactly 156 pounds in weight, they also have had to make allowances for those of us who are considerably shorter and considerably longer than this happy mean.

This they have somehow managed to do, points out the National Automobile Club, by incorporating that magic feature in the front seat of your car.

New Hobby: Collecting Famous People in Europe

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

LONDON—Tourists are great collectors. Some members of The Sun's Jubilee Holiday to Europe collect silver spoons, bracelet charms, figurines. Others collect newspapers, comic books and postcards from each country. Another gathers samples of sand or soil at each stop.

Several are pumping hundreds of dollars into Europe's economy, buying stamps. I helped in stamp transactions in Monte Carlo, where the post office clerk gave me a lesson in French—and in return I taught her English "one-two-three."

(It is amazing that so many Europeans in the main tourist paths speak English. It takes away some of the fun—but it certainly makes travel easy.)

My hobby is ash trays. I have beautiful ones from Paris, Florence, Rome, Nice and every city at which we stopped—even from our bus "relief" stops. They are a wonderful memory, as many have pictures on them.

CONTRA COSTANS on The Sun's European Holiday enjoyed seeing the famous Austrian slap dances in Innsbruck. Next best were delicious Austrian beer and sausages.

An interesting collection

The Sun tour has started a new collection—famous people.

On a recent Sunday afternoon we had a delightful drive from Nice, France, over the Grande Corniche road to Monaco. We saw the yachts, estates and beaches of the world's nobility, movie royalty and commercial kings.

But, of course, the real interest in Monte-Carlo was to partake of Europe's greatest romance—the Prince and Grace Kelly. We hopped off our bus in front of their castle.

On the balcony in front we saw a little girl bouncing up and down. It was Grace's little girl. I shot movies of the changing of the guard and then went sightseeing.

Other Contra Costans noticed a big black limousine driving from the castle and they saw Princess Grace, alone in the back seat.

Was the Casino exciting?

This was certainly more exciting than Monte-Carlo's prime claim to fame—the Casino. The gambling palace is magnificent, the gardens lovely, but the gambling and people were just plain dull. We visited early in the evening, perhaps before real excitement could be generated. Even those who won $10 or $50 weren't thrilled.

Eleanor and I walked across to the Hotel de Paris, where Churchill recently was hurt during his stay. In the plush hotel, we learned to use a "champagne-bubble popper." It's a stick with a wooden head to stir the bubbles out of your champagne. If you don't believe it, I'll show you some.

In Paris a few saw Konrad Adenauer and Charles de Gaulle leaving the majestic Opera House after an evening's program. Our hotels were near the Opera House. Eleanor and I saw groups of soldiers carrying Tommy guns, standing by armored cars. We learned later they were protecting the big wheels.

Our French guides couldn't get over the fact that German flags were flying all over Paris to honor Adenauer. They told us we were lucky because all the city's lovely fountains were operating because of his visit.

Excitement in Rome

The biggest thrill was our audience with Pope John XXIII. When I say "audience," let me hasten to add there were 4000 pilgrims and visitors in attendance.

Vatican City is wonderful; St. Peter's, the world's largest church, is breathtaking. Then add the colorful Swiss guards and costumed church officials—plus hearing prayers and an inspiring message from the Pope. This was an experience we'll never forget.

In Rome we saw Howard Duff, Ida Lupino and Rita Hayworth, who were staying at our hotel while making movies. Much more beautiful was a movie star from India in her lovely sari.

Here in London, Eleanor and I saw the President of Liberia and his wife in a procession driving into Buckingham Palace. London town is dressed up for this state visit.

Several saw the Duke of Kent and the Lord Mayor of London greet the Liberian officials before a state function the other day.

Great Britain is a land of pomp and ceremony.

London is colorful

We thoroughly enjoyed the changing of the guard in front of Buckingham Palace and the costumes and ceremonies at the Tower of London.

(Added later: I just missed seeing King Gustave of Sweden at a hotel in Malpo, Sweden, across from Copenhagen.)

Contra Costans, however, didn't miss seeing some very famous people in Nice, France—the shapely mademoiselles in tiny bikinis. Wow! It took more movies of the bikini girls than of the entire city of Florence!

Come up and see my bikini movies sometime!

Five More Couples Take the Merry March Down Middle Aisle

The Sun and the sun shines smilingly on the parade of summer brides and their grooms. Some of the recent beautiful wedding ceremonies of local interest are:

NIMMO-McCLAIN

Stanford graduates exchanged vows at Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church recently when Patricia Margaret Nimmo became Mrs. Thomas Judson Ashmead McClain.

Pat was the first of the six lovely daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Nimmo, of Lafayette, to wed. Alice, Barbara and Nancy Nimmo were bridesmaids for their sister; while kid-sisters Virginia and Janet Nimmo were flower girls.

After the Reverend Andrew M. Robinson performed the ceremony, a reception was held at the Nimmo home, 710 Los Palos Drive, Lafayette.

As Pat walked down the aisle on her father's arm, she was radiant in an organza over taffeta sheath with bouffant organza overskirt.

The gown was trimmed at the scoop neckline, elbow-length sleeves, and overskirt, with floral applique.

Her flowers were of white carnations and stephanotis. The short illusion veil was held by a narrow halo of floral applique and pearls.

Diana Wheeler, maid of honor, and the bridesmaids wore mint green organza over taffeta dresses. Their bow headpieces matched.

Diana carried a cascade of tangerine and white carnations while the bridesmaids carried old-fashioned bouquets of the same flowers.

The flower girls, in mint green bouffant organza frocks with wide sashes, carried baskets of tangerine and white carnations.

Tom is the son of the Walter J. McClains of Denver, Colorado. He attended Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Johns Hopkins University and graduated from Stanford. He was an AFC in the Air Force.

Pat is a graduate of Acalanes High School and Stanford.

The groom's father was best man. Ushers were Stanford classmates: Jim Pierik, Sam Vickers and Bob Sullivan.

The McClains will make their home in Boston, Massachusetts, where the groom will attend Harvard Business School.

SHAHBAZIAN-GRAY

Dr. Jack V. Shahbazian of Alamo gave his daughter, Carol Jane, recently in marriage to Walter "David" Gray.

The young couple recited their vows in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Walnut Creek, before Father Robert Tsu.

Carol Jane is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Jack V. Shahbazian, 1589 Livorna Road West.

David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter V. Gray, 2019 Magnolia Way, Walnut Creek.

The bride's gown was floor length white peau de soie. It had a sweetheart neckline and chapel train. Her veil was bubble shaped with a crown of embroidered lily-of-the-valley on peau de soie.

She carried a sunburst of lily-of-the-valley with a white orchid.

Carol Jane attended San Ramon Valley High School and San Jose State College. She is past honored queen of Jobs Daughters, Danville Bethel #247.

David is past master counselor of DeMolay, Las Trampas Chapter, Walnut Creek. He graduated from Las Lomas High School and San Jose State. He also attended Diablo Valley College.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Raymond B. Logan, Jr., of Glendale, was matron of honor. Another sister, Jacquelyn Shahbazian, was maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Ronald Miller, the groom's sister; Marilyn Connor, Alamo; Mrs. Gary Edwards, Santa Clara.

Their dresses were of pale yellow, silk organza with bell-shaped skirts. Flowers were yellow roses on lace bells.

Best man was Roger Rose of Walnut Creek.

Ushers were Don Hopkins, Nick Bane, Ronald Miller, Larry Nunnally, Don Connolly and Mike McFeely.

Jo Anne Golden was soloist. Organist was Kenneth Mansfield, Jr.

The reception was at the Alamo Women's Club. The receiving line was in front of an archway with white tulle ruffles on the pickets.

After a Lake Tahoe honeymoon, the couple is at home in Walnut Creek.

WILKINSON-OREAR

Linda Hallie Wilkinson became Mrs. Richard Coburn Orear at a beautiful 4 p.m. formal ceremony recently in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Walnut Creek.

Linda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wood Wayne Wilkinson, 3333 Victoria Avenue, Lafayette.

Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Wilton Orear of San Francisco. The groom resided in Walnut Creek, where the young people are now making their home.

The Rev. Alfred Secombe and the Rev. Wilfred Hodgkin performed the ceremony. Large white floral arrangements were at either side of the altar.

The bride's gown was white silk organza over taffeta. The lace flower trim was applied with seed pearl. Her headpiece was heart-shaped and covered with French hand-orange blossoms. It was loaned to the bride by Mrs. Dennis Busby (Beth Maas).

Linda carried a prayer book covered by white butterfly orchids and stephanotis.

Merrie-Ann Wilkinson, the bride's sister, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs.

Kirk Daly (Carol Feldman), Jan Hess and Marcia Orear, the groom's sister.

The attendants wore azalea pink organza sheaths with overskirts. Their flowers were pale pink carnation cascades. Best man was Horace Wilton Orear, Jr., brother of the bride. Ushers were Kirk Daly and Jim Miner.

The reception was in the garden of the bride's parents' home.

Linda is a graduate of Acalanes High School and California Polytechnic. She is past honored queen of Jobs Daughters, Lafayette Bethel #218.

Richard is a graduate of the University of California, Berkeley, where he was a Phi Delta Theta. He was in the Navy three years. His rank was Lt. (jg).

The Orears are now at home in Walnut Creek.

MEIKLE-BATESOLE

Patricia Carol Meikle recently became the bride of Gordon Kenneth Batesole. St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Walnut Creek, was the setting for the rites, performed by the Rev. Alfred Secombe.

Patricia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Jackson Meikle, 3367 Moraga Boulevard, Lafayette. She graduated from Holy Names High School, Oakland, and attended Trafalgar School for Girls, Montreal, Canada.

Patricia graduated from Diablo Valley College, where she was a member of Alpha Gamma Sigma Honor Society and secretary of Town Hall Council.

Gordon is a director and treasurer of the Walnut Creek Junior Chamber of Commerce. He graduated from Las Lomas High School and attended DVC. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Orin Kenneth Batesole, 150 Shady Lane, Walnut Creek.

Patricia wore a classic wedding gown of pure silk peau de soie with a train and three-quarter sleeves. It was appliqued with guipure lace and sprays of lily-of-the-valley.

Her illusion veil was secured to a crown of lily-of-the-valley. She carried a bouquet of white roses and lily-of-the-valley.

Mrs. David Struthers was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Arlene O'Donnell and Mrs. Richard Vargas.

The attendants were gowned alike in green chiffon sheaths caught at the waistline with matching Swiss lace. Matching bows completed their ensembles. Their bouquets were of roses and miniature ivy.

William Stone was organist. Best man was Curt Spott. Ushers were Dale Bolar and Robert Dean Batesole, brother of the groom.

The reception was at the Concord Inn. The newlyweds are now at home in Walnut Creek.

DIGNAN-COONS

Another Walnut Creek couple chose Walnut Creek's St. Paul's Episcopal Church as the setting for their marriage, and the parish hall for their reception. The Reverend Secombe united Penny Susan Dignan and Michael James Coons at a beautiful formal ceremony recently.

Penny is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Dignan, 130 Margarido Drive, Walnut Creek. A Las Lomas High School graduate, she now works at an Oakland bank.

Michael is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Coons, 1229 Lindell Drive, Walnut Creek. He graduated from Las Lomas and is presently attending Armstrong's College in Berkeley.

As Penny walked down the aisle on the arm of her father, she wore a silk organza over French net gown. It had chintilly lace insets and a full brush train. The sweetheart neckline was sprinkled with pearls and sequins.

A lily-of-the-valley caplet held a "poof" veil of English Indisrim. Penny carried a cascade of stephanotis centered by a white orchid.

Marilyn March was maid of honor. Linda Haberland, Nancy Bedell and Nancy Sharpe were bridesmaids.

They were gowned alike in peppermint green nylon sheaths, full overskirts and matching bow headpieces. They carried pink carnations.

Robert McGorley was Michael's best man. Barry Lago, Lloyd Mason and Michael Atwater were ushers. The latter two are from Walnut Creek.

At the reception, the bride's table was carried out in white, while the decor for the parish hall was pink and white.

After a Carmel honeymoon, the new Mr. and Mrs. Coons are at home in Walnut Creek.

Yosemite Guild Has a Luau in the 'South Seas'

John Muir Hospital's Yosemite Guild had a luau at the Peter Mattei home in Danville on Saturday night. Proceeds went to the hospital's building fund.

Muumuu-clad guests were so surrounded by South Seas atmosphere that they almost expected the mountain in the distance to erupt traditional lava and send screeching natives scurrying down its slopes!

Actually, the mountain was Diablo. The atmosphere, authentic though it was, was really contrived by decorations chairman Mrs. Ted Merrill and helpers. The "natives" were really John Muir Guild members and friends, clad in Island finery for the occasion.

Peter Mattei worked in overalls right up until the first guests were exchanging alohas, hammering, painting, and touching up last minute details on the grounds—which have been remodeled, re-landscaped, and replanted, finishing in a spectacular nick of time for the party.

Cocktails and hors d'oeuvres began the luau in the front expanse of yard facing the mountain, with Island gods, tiki torches, and flowers setting the scene.

Then guests entered the back area through a gate, where each was festooned with a lei, and greeted in Island fashion. A soy sauce company representatives passed out fans for all. The night was a balmy and welcome one, after the "cool snap" that harassed party chairmen earlier in the week. Here local tables on bricks groaned under their beautiful burdens of fruit and flowers. Guests quitted or sat to eat pork fried rice, shrimp, papayas, and various pungent Island dishes. Muumuu-clad waitresses with flowers behind ears assisted at the feast.

Then the dancing began—first by a troupe doing Maori and Hawaiian interpretations in costume, and then by the guests themselves, all to the thrum of Ted Yap's Polynesian ensemble. The pool, filled with floating rings of flowers, was the center of dancing activities.

General chairman of the luau was Mrs. Jas. Findleton. Committee chairmen were: Refreshments and treasurer, Mrs. Geo. Talbot; tickets and reservations, Mrs. Lyall O. Bishop; properties, Mrs. H. Elrod; decorations, Mrs. Ted Merrill; food, Mrs. R. Righetti; publicity, Mrs. Jas. E. Poulton, and cleanup, Mrs. R. Emory.

Katy Madsen, Walnut Creek artist noted for her portraits in oils, now has a show at Lafayette Gallery, 3631 Mt. Diablo Boulevard.

The gallery is in the offices of Lafayette Federal Savings and Loan Association, open and free to the public during business hours.

Mrs. Madsen, a graduate of San Jose State College, has studied under Jade Fon and Thomas Leighton. Her paintings have been accepted by the De Young Museum and she has a painting, "Lady in Black" in the book entitled "Prize Winning Oils."

Several of her paintings currently on exhibit at Lafayette Gallery have won first place prizes, all have appeared in juried shows. "The Nurse" took first prize at the Concord Summer Show and "Jessie" recently was judged best of show at the Delta Art Association's Antioch show.

A resident of Walnut Creek for 11 years, Mrs. Madsen has taught at the Acalanes Adult Education center and now specializes in portraits by commission. She has participated in art-in-action at many art shows and given demonstrations for art organizations throughout the country.

Married to Dr. Harold F. Madsen of the University of California, Mrs. Madsen is the mother of three children. Her paintings are hung in the Lafayette Gallery through the courtesy of the Valley Art Center.

Begin Construction of Big District Reservoir

Construction of a two million gallon reservoir for the Treated Water Division of Contra Costa County Water District was officially launched recently on a hilltop halfway between downtown Concord and Clayton.

The new facility will be called Bailey Reservoir. It will be the first reservoir installed by the Treated Water Division since it took over the water system early last year. It will also be the first reservoir in the system to be built completely underground.

Ground was broken for the project by Ralph Bollman, president of the water district's board of directors, and Craig Randall, chairman of the Treated Water Division Citizens Advisory Committee.

They said Bailey Reservoir will be the first of several large treated water storage facilities the TWD plans to add in coming years. According to Randall, the new reservoirs will guarantee TWD customers a dependable water supply and improved pressure.

BAILEY RESERVOIR will be completed in December at a cost of $281,000. The hilltop site for the project, overlooking the intersection of Clayton and Bailey Roads, cost an additional $28,000. The site includes space for a future addition of 4,000,000 gallons more storage capacity.

The reservoir will be constructed of reinforced concrete. The entire structure will lie below the surface of the hilltop. Randall said the TWD decided to place it underground to avoid marring the hill, since the site lies in a residential area.

The City of Concord has been offered the use of the flat roof over the reservoir for public tennis courts. He added that if the site is not used for tennis courts the TWD would cover the roof with earth and mask the site by planting grass and shrubbery.

Bailey Reservoir is located approximately 330 feet above sea level and is designed to provide gravity flow to water users between 100 and 220 feet above sea level.

School Districts Up Pupil Cost in California by $15

California school districts spent $1,616,960,000—an average of about $455 per pupil—to operate elementary schools, high schools and junior colleges during the 1960-61 fiscal year.

State Controller Alan Cranston said figures contained in the annual report on school district financial transactions, recently published by his office, indicate that the average expenditure per pupil increased approximately $15 from the previous year.

The controller noted that while the total general fund expenditures were 9.6 per cent greater than in 1959-60, the districts' general fund income of $1,633,572,000 was up 10 per cent. The average daily attendance was $3,553,679, a growth of 6 per cent.

GENERAL FUND expenditures encompass salaries, miscellaneous costs of instruction, operation and maintenance of school plants, pupil transportation, administration, capital outlay and various fixed charges. Not included are expenditures from building funds, bond funds, child care center funds and cafeteria funds.

There was an anticipated decrease in the number of school districts, Cranston explained. The report lists 1703, compared with 1734 the previous year.

"This is in keeping with the trend of consolidation where it is possible and reasonable to achieve a maximum of economy without detracting from efficiency and service," he said.

The report contains detailed fiscal information on 1316 elementary districts, 223 high school districts, 127 unified districts and 37 junior college districts. Unified districts increased by nine, junior college districts by seven. There were 44 fewer elementary districts and three high school districts were dissolved.

Cranston noted that the districts derived 54.7 per cent of their income from district taxes, 40.5 per cent from the apportionment of State funds, 2.6 per cent from federal subventions and the balance from miscellaneous sources.

Miss Calderon Is Studying South Of the Border

Margaret Calderon, 864 Mt. View Drive, Lafayette, is studying south of the border at Mexico City College this summer.

Miss Calderon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David A. Calderon, of 3685 Mt. Diablo Blvd., Lafayette, is a 1958 graduate of Acalanes High School in Lafayette. She received her bachelor of arts degree in June, 1962, at the University of California at Davis. At Mexico City College, her graduate studies are in Spanish.

THE COLLEGE, now in its 22nd year, is situated about 20 minutes' drive from Mexico's cosmopolitan city.

Miss Calderon is enrolled in the annual workshop in Mexican affairs, unique in scope and manner of presentation. This course is designed for the needs of teachers, social workers and public administrators in bi-lingual areas, writers, artists and general public. The program of study consists of a series of lectures, field trips and roundtable discussions, all centered upon a particular field of specialization as applied to Mexico.

According to statistics by the Institute of International Education, the college has a larger enrollment of American students outside the borders of the United States than any other university abroad except the Sorbonne in Paris.

ALL CLASSES are taught in English, except for a few in the graduate school.

The credit system is the same as in U.S. universities and colleges. Courses of study, taught by a distinguished international faculty educated in Europe, Latin America and the United States, lead to the B.A. and M.A. degrees.

Average enrollment is more or less 1000 students a quarter.

Hoyt Will Enter Claremont College

Among new students who will be entering Claremont Men's College in September is William R. Hoyt Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Hoyt, 3177 Somerset Drive, Lafayette.

Moschetti Plans Improvement for Danville Hotel

Will Moschetti, spokesman for the partners that recently purchased the Danville Hotel, announced that $210,000 will be poured into hotel improvements.

Immediate plans include building an ornamental pool outside the bar, bordering a new 45 x 40 sunken dance floor, a red and white repainting job on the exterior of the hotel, and a complete renovation of the hotel's upstairs.

Will and Zander Moschetti, brothers, and their sister Eunice Perine and Robert Appleton purchased the hotel for $325,000 June 27.

Construction of a 20-unit motel will begin following completion of the hotel proper. The motel will feature underground parking and an Olympic-size swimming pool, and will offer off-street parking on Railroad Avenue.

Moschetti also announced that the hotel will be open seven days a week with a "name band" performing six days and a complete floor show every night. Negotiations are already underway to engage one of the biggest names in show business for the October grand opening, he said.

In addition, Hendrickson will be responsible for operation of an existing Weyerhaeuser shipping container plant at Colton, and a new plant scheduled to begin production at Santa Paula, in September.

NEW PRESIDENT Robert W. Lowe of Walnut Creek is shown receiving best wishes from retiring president Terry Hawes, left, at the recent election of officers for the Council for the Retarded of East Contra Costa County. Others named to office were Roy Reynolds, vice president; Laird Durham, treasurer; Ferd Wascoe, financial secretary; Mrs. Ruth Chesley, recording secretary, and Mrs. Patricia Hunt, corresponding secretary.

County-Wide Action for Older Citizens Planned

A major recommendation for the formation of a county-wide committee on aging to stimulate, organize and co-ordinate efforts on the behalf of older persons in Contra Costa County resulted from two meetings of the Ford Foundation Project on Aging held in Lafayette recently.

Preliminary plans for meeting needs of an increasing body of older citizens were discussed by a group of 23 leaders in community planning. These volunteers from Richmond, Lafayette, Diablo and Pittsburg represent senior citizen groups, health, welfare and recreation agencies.

Chairmen of the three area council of the Contra Costa Council of Community Service met with Ben Goldberger, president of the county-wide council and Ford Foundation representatives later in the week to review the progress of the Project on Aging and to hear recommendations.

IT WAS REVEALED at the earlier meeting, sponsored by the Council of Community Service, that during this decade the numbers of grandparents, retirees and other older citizens will double in Contra Costa County, an area traditionally dominated by young families and children.

Nationally known figures in the field of gerontology at the session were Ollie A. Randall of New York, vice president of the National Council on Aging and consultant-observer for Ford Foundation, and Dr. Robert Morris of Brandeis University in Waltham, Mass., co-ordinator of the Contra Costa and six other Ford Foundation projects on aging.

These projects aim to develop new approaches in resolving community needs.

Contra Costans participating included presidents of the United Crusade research and community planning agency, the Council of Community Services; Ben Goldberger of Pittsburg, county council president and district presidents Mrs. Robert T. Adams of Lafayette, Central Contra Costa; Clifford J. McElhane of Pittsburg, East Contra Costa and Grant Johnson of Richmond, West Contra Costa.

Gertrude Hall, director of the local project, reported that the 1960 census showed 22,578 persons over 65 years old and that there are now 34,000 over 62. It is expected that there will be some 50,000 persons in the older category by 1970.

IN ANALYZING the overall social welfare picture, the director explained that in Contra Costa services are expanding to meet the needs of young families, which make up the major population.

"However, grandparents and retirees arrive daily from the east and north, as well as from other Bay Area communities, where the climate may be too cool and damp for some of the older people.

"Even though greater numbers of older persons now live in Richmond, El Cerrito and Pittsburg, records of several agencies, as well as the increase of boarding and nursing homes for the aging in Central Contra Costa, indicate that there is a trend toward a rapid growth in the population of older persons of the county."

She cited immediate county needs as: a plan for co-ordinated transportation to medical services; preventive program of medical services; extension and expansion of leisure time services; protective service (legal aid); pre-retirement planning, and assistance with nutrition and dental problems.

Area Immunization Way To Halt Polio's Return

A leader in Cleveland's recent massive polio immunization drive told Bay Area officials this week that their upcoming program, largest project of its kind ever undertaken, is the surest way of finally eliminating the paralyzing disease.

Dr. Charles L. Leedham of the Cleveland Academy of Medicine flew to San Francisco Monday evening to confer with Bay Area doctors following several days in Dallas, where a polio epidemic threatens and a Sabin oral vaccine program is being rushed into effect.

Speaking at a special meeting of the Bay Area Medical Association Committee in Burlingame, Dr. Leedham warned that, contrary to popular belief, "pockets of infection" such as exist now in Texas are actually on the increase and could occur in any metropolitan area.

THE MASSIVE Bay Area onslaught against polio, scheduled to begin September 23, has been given its official name by the doctors of the County Medical Societies who are spearheading the program. The ambitious undertaking to immunize up to 3,500,000 people will be called the "K.O. Polio" program.

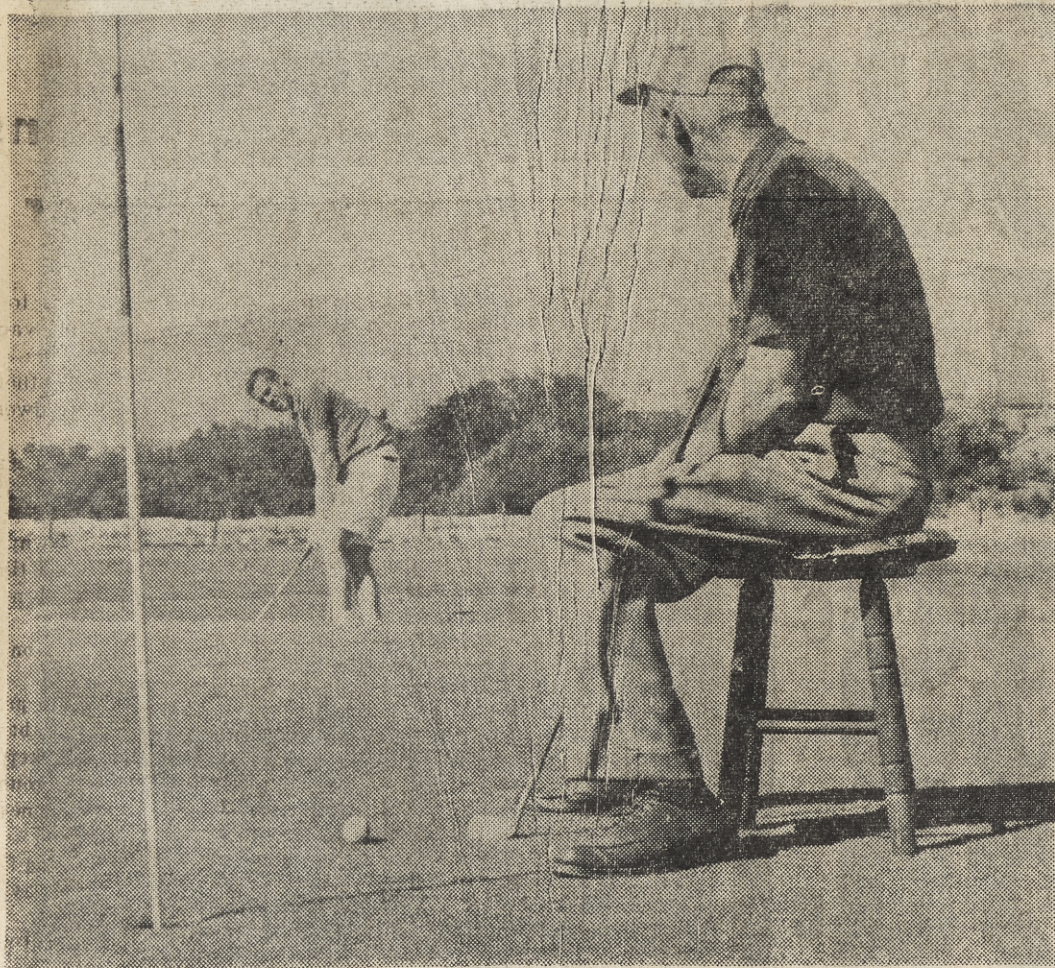

Dr. Edward B. Shaw, chairman of the Bay Area Medical Association Committee, which is coordinating the program, announced the name and stated that it was selected because it suggests that the Sabin oral vaccine will provide a final "knock-out blow" to all types of paralytic polio.

It is expected that 90 per cent or more of the total population in this area will visit polio centers on September 23, November 4 and December 9 to eat a lump of sugar with the vaccine on it. This will be the largest mass vaccination effort in the history of the West, and probably the nation.

POLIO CENTERS will be set up in schools and other convenient community locations throughout the Bay Area. Each person should take the vaccine on all three Sundays, according to Dr. Shaw, because each dose immunizes against one type of paralytic polio.

People of all ages, from 3 months to the eldest citizen, should take the thoroughly tested Sabin vaccine. Dr. Shaw also points out that everyone should take the vaccine regardless of having received Salk polio shots because the Sabin oral vaccine gives added protection and makes it impossible for a person to be a "carrier" of the disease.

The "K.O. Polio" organization is now being formed. Thousands of volunteers are being sought to help in carrying out the program, and in educating the public regarding it.

THIS WAS THE CASE most of the day—Sam Dickie's accurate game kept him around the pin while George Colburn of The Sun found himself in trouble on almost every hole. Here Colburn lines up a shot as Dickie patiently waits for his opponent to "catch up."

DEMONSTRATING, Sam Dickie shows George Colburn of The Sun how the game of golf should be played—and even a stool isn't a handicap.

Golf Made Easy—on a Stool

By GEORGE COLBURN

Sam Dickie is a golfer, I am not. He used to be a professional. I haven't come close to being an amateur yet. I'm the kind of person laughingly referred to as a "Sunday Duffer."

Despite our obvious lack of mutual ground in this field, the two of us played a round of golf the other day at Carroll Country Club—a short, nine-hole "pitch and putt" course in Rheem Center.

Now, being a person who doesn't like to lose and be embarrassed, I never would have agreed to such a match under usual conditions.

HOWEVER, I had something going for me—a stool.

Dickie, who instructs beginning golfers three mornings a week at the club, as sort of a hobby or diversion from his usual real estate work, has a unique way to illustrating "how easy it is to play golf."

Dickie points out to his pupils, "golf is played with the hands and the wrists." The swing is important, not the body motion, he claims.

Pupils, being pupils, aren't good listeners. So Dickie needed something to demonstrate his point about the hands and wrists. At first, he put his knees together and almost knelt to hit his shots. The students apparently just yawned and kept up their bad habits. So Sam decided to "sit down on the job."

He found a four-legged stool for the class—and practiced. He sawed off the shaft on an old three wood and five iron and found the class got the picture. THIS WEEK, when invited by Dickie for a round of what he calls "golfette" I readily agreed. There is nothing like pleasure during business hours and it would be free.

And, too, he would be sitting down all the time—and he had never played a round of golf on the stool. His practice had been confined to tee shots. For the occasion, he sawed off the shaft of a putter.

Dickie says his game of "golfette" might be a good idea for the golfers who now ride between shots in the electric carts. Dickie points out that they might as well sit down all the time and could if they took up his style.

Dickie, 63, is a native of Scotland. He has golfed since he was 11 years old. A mechanical engineer by education, Dickie's love of golfing found him turning pro shortly after coming to the United States in 1926. A good amateur golfer, he was offered an assistant's job at the exclusive Shinnecock Hills Golf Club in Southampton, Long Island, in 1927.

FROM 1927 TO 1942 Dickie earned his living as a golfer although he was a teacher, not one who toured the circuit.

He moved to California during the war. He has lived in Orinda for 20 years—and has lived in the house he built on Via Floreado for the past 15 years. Dickie got into the real estate business in 1947 and is now associated with Zoe Woolsey in Orinda Village.

About the golf match—we split the first two holes and then it was all Dickie.

It's strictly no contest when a real professional and a "hacker" play each other—despite a stool, a difference in age of 40 years and a difference in size and weight similar to a lightweight and a heavyweight.

I understand I can get a cut-rate price on golf instructions from Sam Dickie three mornings a week at Carroll Country Club.

Four 'Charmed' Teams in P.H.

Four teams remained unbeaten after the fifth week of play in the nine Pleasant Hill Junior baseball leagues.

In Saturday's National League action, Terry Henson pitched a three-hitter and struck out 16 batters to lead Oakland Pressmen to a 7-0 win over Hillsdale. The win put both teams in a tie for second place, and a half game behind league-leading Walnut Creek Optimist.

WC Jr. Baseball Into Last Week

Moving into the last week of play, the Walnut Creek Junior Baseball season, all but one of the races remain "alive."

The Cubs of the Optimist League, the only undefeated and untied team in Walnut Creek, have wrapped up the championship of that loop.

During the last week, the Diablo Cleaners of the International League dropped from the unbeaten ranks as Hull's Walnut Creek Chapel upset them, 12-10.

A & W Root Beer, with only a tie to mar their season performance to date, have a slim lead over their pursuers.

The National League lead is shared by Russ' Barber Shop and Jack and Bob's Meats with the outlook at the moment being that a playoff could be needed to split the knot.

Burton's leads in the Western Gold, and is on the threshold of nailing down first place for keeps.

In the American League, the WCYAA continue their reign in first place, but a late season drive by Kavert's Plumbing keeps them in the race.

COAST LEAGUE

A & W Root Beer moved relentlessly toward the league championship, as they added a pair of victories to their win streak. With their "big three" of the mound, Mike Croson, Neil McLaughlin and Buddy Robarge continuing their great work, A & W downed Sandra Joy Casuals, 13-3, and W.C. Elks, 23-8. Chuck Dhouat accounted for a triple and Buddy Robarge tagged a four-bagger against Sandra Joy. John Schertenlieb knocked a round tripper with two aboard, and Ricky Wisner carved came up with a "grand slam."

Walnut Creek Canning topped LoRay's, 12-7. Dave Robertson, with assistance from Doug McIntosh and Mike Anthofer, handled the pitching chores. Steve Matthews demonstrated he had become a steady hitter, collecting a double and single. John Kilbuck knocked out a triple to account for two RBIs.

General Office outlasted Gil Ashcom Rambler, 12-11, in a see-saw struggle. Jay Murphy was the winning pitcher. Greg Clark and Devin Harris accounted for timely hits.

Walnut Creek Sheet Metal got up a full head of steam as they rolled up 23 runs in collecting their fifth win of the season, prevailing over Walnut Creek Elks, 23-15.

Brown's Hobby Center came off on top of a 15-14 score over Army-Navy Surplus. David Reid settled the issue when he drove in the winning run with a double. Tim Keil, who had two doubles earlier, struck out the side in the last of the sixth inning to end the game.

Stevenson's Electronics defeated Sports & Games, 7-3, to remain a half a step behind the leaders, and still in contention.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

The big news in the International League was the "upset" defeat of the loop leader, previously undefeated Diablo Cleaners, by Hull's Walnut Creek Chapel, 12-10. After trailing 8-1, Diablo rallied in the fifth inning to take the lead 9-8. However, Hull's Walnut Creek Chapel took advantage of four Diablo bobbles in the last inning to push across four runs and sew up the contest. Bert Steele, with assistance from John Darriman, was the winning pitcher. Mike Thompson and John Hancock contributed some timely hitting to the Hull cause.

Sid's rallied for their third win of the year, defeating Clifford Electric, 11-7. Dave Caniglia triggered two double plays, and Lynn Keathley and Don Howard stood out at the plate.

McDonnell Nursery edged Oakmont Memorial, 8-6, to keep their title hopes alive. Ralph Banta, finding the range late in the season, and was two for two on the evening. Dennis Julian also came up with a big hit. Norm Read toiled on the mound for the winners, giving up five hits and striking out 12. Bi Rite rallied after trailing Hendricks Piano, to post a 13-10 win. Bruce Lindstrom, filling in on the mound for the vacationing pitching staff, was the winning hurler. Steve Burkett started the Bi Rite group on the comeback trail with a double. Ross Pike also came up with a key hit.

Norm Robinson Chevron added another win to their string, defeating WCYAA, 15-6.

Parker Robb picked up their fourth win in a row, downing Walnut Creek Aggregate, 17-2. Randy Noble struck out 11 of the 12 men to face him and gave up but one hit. Bruce Mello finished up on the mound.

Hendrick Piano, with Bob McCurdy hurling, then chopped off the Parker Robb win streak, as they downed the Chevrolet bunch, 10-6.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

The first place tie between Russ' Barber Shop and Jack and Bob's Meats remained unbroken, as the National League went through an abbreviated schedule during the week.

Photo Center took the measure of the WCYAA, 17-10. Jeff Keil came on in relief after the runs to still the opposing bats.

Association had amassed 10 for the remainder of the contest. Mark Bownian collected four hits for the Photo Center bunch.

OPTIMIST

The combination of the Cubs victory, 12-5, over the Braves, and the Reds 10-5 defeat at the hands of the Giants wrapped up league honors for the Cubs.

Greg Goepfert pitched the entire game for the Giants as they knocked the Reds out of the race, 10-5. Bill Peterson picked up a pair of safeties and Fred Richardson contributed a pair of hits.

The Cubs never trailed after Bob Lee smashed a bases-loaded double with two out in the first to drive home three runs.

The Braves rallied to come within one run, 6-5, in the fourth inning but the Cubs wrapped up the game with six runs in the bottom of the inning.

WESTERN GOLD

Burton's Oak Grove Nursery picked up a pair of wins during the week in their determined bid to nail down the championship.

Richie Stephenson pitched a no-hitter as Burton's shut out their nearest rival, Walnut

Rifle Range Open for Youngsters

Youngsters, wanting to learn how to use rifles, can receive expert instruction at a range made available by United Sportsmen, Inc., an organization of four local clubs.

For 50 cents, the range is open to use of any youngster with his own equipment each Saturday and Sunday, all day during the summer months from 10 a.m. on.

Also, the range is now open Thursday and Friday evenings from 6 p.m. until dark. A running deer target is available on these nights.

THE FOUR clubs, Baypoint Rod and Gun, Concord Sportsmen, Walnut Creek Sportsmen and Diablo Rod and Gun, have qualified instructors on hand at all times when the range is open.

The range is located on the north side of Highway 4 (Arnold Industrial Highway), just east of Concord Naval Ammunition Depot and west of the Willow Pass intersection.

All youngsters are welcome. They do not have to be a member to use the range.

The four clubs combined to purchase the property and they pool their resources to provide a qualified national rifle instructor at the range during the weekend hours.

Bowl, 6-0. Coming off that performance, Stephenson then tossed a 3-hitter at Simon's as Burton's emerged on the long end of a 9-1 score. However, despite the score, the game was close, hard fought affair. Going into the top half of the last inning, Burton's trailed 1-0, and needed a big inning to pull out the victory.

Walnut Bowl kept in the race with an 11-2 win over the Bullets. The game featured a blast over the center field fence by Dave Maurer. Ren Holmberg, filling in at catcher for injured Hank Drabin and John Black, turned in a very creditable performance. Ron has been Walnut Bowl's utility man all season long.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

The WCYAA retain their hold on first place, but the Central Firemen and Kavert Plumbing are just a step off the pace and are keeping the pressure on the leader.

The Association was handled by Ritchie Nye of the Colts, 11-1. Ritchie making a late start after an injury during basketball season, was very impressive.

Kaverts Plumbing, continuing their late season surge, defeated Costello Laundry, 6-2. Rich Bovo was the winning pitcher. Sarge Kavert blasted a homer and Gary Ford continued his hot hitting.

The Association, after the earlier defeat, then came back to decision Costello Laundry. The Central Firemen, staying right in the race, downed the resurgent Colts, 7-2. Bob Krieder went all the way for the Firemen.

Here Are Some Questions For WC City to Answer

By HEC HANCOCK

As the Walnut Creek Junior Baseball season staggers to a conclusion next week, nearly 700 families will be freed for vacation duty and other such trivia.

However, before we write finis to this season, I think there are several things we can do by way of laying the groundwork for next year.

Let's get a specific idea of what can be expected in the way of improvements for next season.

Perhaps in this manner we can circumvent the reasons that have so often been advanced by authorities to explain why a project can be put off indefinitely, namely (1) not enough time this year (2) not enough money allocated (3) wait until next year.

I've compiled a short list of items that we can check on to see what is going to be done.

These, for the most part, aren't "pie in the sky" time projects, but basic needs, essential to a well-operated junior baseball program. If there are any doubts in this respect, the skeptic ones are invited to inspect the baseball programs of the surrounding communities, and then see if they can say in all honesty that our facilities measure up.

1) If Parkmead is to be used for the bulk of play in the 9-10 year old group will steps be taken to put it in adequate playing condition?

2) Will the improvements necessary to put Larkey and San Miguel Schools on a first class playing basis be made? Namely, top soil must be added to the fields, large enough backstops added, and protection provided on the sidelines so that errant foul balls won't decapitate unsuspecting souls awaiting their turn at bat.

3) How about the rest rooms for Civic Field? These were promised years ago, and funds provided by the Walnut Festival to cover a good part of the cost. Gentlemen, it's been a long wait!

4) Next year, can we use City Park five nights a week? Currently, it's dark on Tuesday. Playing in City Park is the highlight of the season for the 9 and 10 year olds, and by using Tuesday, each team could make another appearance there during the season.

5) As for City Park, can we do something with the infield other than just dumping sand on top of its concrete-like underneath?

6) Are we going to get the infield at Civic Field in shape. No football on the infield in the off season would help.

7) Will we ever be successful in making arrangements to eliminate the flooding of Las Lomas' field prior to a scheduled game?

8) How about practice fields? Can't something be done to bring Walnut Creek School up to reasonable playing shape? As it stands now, a team can't take infield practice once the season starts without the risk of injuring the players.

9) How about lights for Civic Field? This would double our sorely pressed facilities.

P.S.) We'll be checking for answers.

One of the saddest lil' guys in town is Randy Noble of the Parker Robb club in Walnut Creek's International League. It seems that A&W Root Beer provides a gallon of root beer for everyone hitting a homer Randy has "hit five," but in his eagerness to get around the bags, has been called out five times for missing first base! If Randy could ever get by first base properly, he literally would be swimming in root beer!

The pitchers in Walnut Creek's Coast League weren't sorry to see Jeff Jones of General Office leave on vacation. In 14 official times at bat, he hit safely 12 times, collecting five homers, two doubles and five singles!

Friars Now First in Orinda Softball

Orinda Friars won their third straight game, 9-0 over Robbins & Co., and took over undisputed possession of first place in the Orinda Adult Softball League Monday night.

Previously undefeated Wallace Realtors fell to the I.C.B. All-Stars, 5-3, in a well-played defensive battle, also Monday night.

The other Monday game saw Casa Orinda move into a tie for second place with a 10-2 romp over Peretti Realty.

The Friars are now 3-0 with Casa Orinda and Wallace both 2-1.

LAST WEEK, Friars edged the All-Stars, 18-16; Wallace dumped Peretti, 16-7, and Casa Orinda defeated Robbins, 10-6.

Ken Dewing's homer for the All-Stars gave them a 3-3 tie in the fifth inning. The All-Stars then added two more in the inning and Pat Patton pitched shutout ball the rest of the way to wrap up the win.

Walt Stricker gave up only three hits and got two himself as the Friars breezed to their third win. Jack Ketchum also got two hits for the winners.

Hugh Singray allowed two Peretti runs in the first inning then pitched shutout ball for Casa Orinda. For the second straight week Paul Grahl had three hits for the winners, Alan Johnson, shortstop, sparkled in the field for Casa Orinda.

Bud Shank of Lafayette, who plays his golf at Diablo Country Club, reached the semi-finals of the California Amateur golf tournament before bowing, 8 and 6, to Dick Lotz, the eventual champion.

Lotz of Hayward, only 19 years old, became the youngest champion in the history of the tournament Sunday when he beat Ron Cerrudo of Castro Valley, 5 and 3.

Shank has been Diablo Club champion four times and, although he has never won any major tournaments, went to the quarter finals of the state in 1955 before bowing out.

All Races 'Open' In LYA Baseball

Moving into the "home stretch," extremely tight races are being fought in the various leagues of the Lafayette Youth Association baseball program.

With but a little over a week remaining to play, no team has clinched league honors by a long shot.

Some indication of the balance of the league is that of the 38 teams that started play several weeks ago, only Rheem of the Minors, National League Division, remains undefeated. By the same token, there is only two teams in the program looking for their first win. The balance that has characterized the various leagues has given birth to some excellent competition.

Thus, going into the final week, the leaders can not be blamed for looking nervously over their shoulders at the hotly pursuing pack, just a step back and in full chase.

MINOR LEAGUE NATIONAL DIVISION
Sun Valley Lumber got the action for the week under way, defeating Lincoln Development, 4-1. The defeat dropped Lincoln Development two games off the leader.

Lafayette Toyland took the measure of Moraga Lions, 1-0. Links Appliances brought their season record to the .500 mark with a 5-2 win over Lafayette Rental and Hardware.

Lincoln Development bounced back from their earlier loss to squeeze by Lafayette Lions, 4-1. The loss was the first of the season for the Lions.

LINKS APPLIANCES and the Emporium battled to no decision, settling for a 2-2 tie.

Lafayette Lions then turned on Lafayette Toyland, 6-2. Merit Tanks dropped Moraga Lions 4-1, to wind up the action for the week. Jerry Simons homered for Merit Tanks.

Gaston's in the upset of the week. However, Gaston's then came back to down Sports & Games, 3-1.

Sports & Games earlier had shown signs of making their move as they rolled over Campana Music, 13-0.

Dave's Nursery won a pair, and moved into the second spot. They outslugged Lafayette Pharmacy of victories, defeating Lafayette Dime and Dollar, 2-1, and Campana, 7-4. However, they were also held to a tie by Lincoln Development, 1-1.

AFTER DROPPING a 4-3 nod to Rheem, Merit Tanks won two, beating Lafayette Lions, 8-2, and Lafayette Dime and Dollar, 10-3.

Rheem picked their second win of the period, topping Orchard Nursery, 9-3.

Gaston's stayed in contention winning 10-3 against Sun Valley Lumber.

Campana Music salvaged a win for the week, prevailing over Moraga Lions, 13-5.

Links Appliances made a twin killing, downing Orchard Nursery, 6-5, and Moraga Lions, 4-1.

Lafayette Rental and Hardware moved over the .500 mark, 12-10, and then topped Campana Music, 7-4.

MAJOR LEAGUE
Sports & Games continued their occupancy of first place, but were defeated for the first time on the season after picking up two wins earlier in the week. Ken Terry pitched a no-hit no-run game as Sports & Games defeated Lafayette Lions, 10-0.

Next was a 9-2 win over Lafayette Dime and Dollar. However, their win string was chopped at eight as Jacuzzi rose up to win, 5-3.

Jacuzzi had earlier won a cliff hanger from Lafayette Rental and Hardware, 3-2, to give them the second spot.

Lafayette Pharmacy picked a 4-0 shutout at the expense of Lincoln Development.

SUN VALLEY LUMBER came back to defeat Lafayette Dime and Dollar, 6-2.

With Jim Morrison throwing a no-hitter, American National Insurance moved by Lafayette Lions, 12-2. Then, tangling with Gaston's, they battled to a 9-9 tie. Steve Mercier, John Ririgand, and Ernie Elliot hit round-trippers for the American National Insurance cause.

PONY LEAGUE
The race for the league pennant tightened considerably during the past week. The gap between the leaders, Lafayette Toyland and LYA III, closed to a game during the week's activities.

Lafayette Toyland tasted defeat for the first time this season, being upset at the hands of the Emporium, 7-5.

The Emporium maintained their momentum, defeating LaFiesta Barbers, 8-7.

LDA III moved into serious contention with a pair of wins. They started the week off with a 16-1 triumph over LaFiesta Barbers. Then, with Gary Shaw pitching a shutout, LYA was victorious over Berkeley Farms, 5-0. Shaw gave up four singles to the Berkeley Farms. LYA set up their scoring opportunities by successfully pilfering 10 bases during the games. Bob Klitgaard struck out eight, while laboring in a losing cause.

Winners Named In District's Fitness Test
Fred Ryan, Grove Hummert, Bruce Arnold and John Bomberger were the division winners in the Physical Fitness Test recently completed at Acalanes High School for all boys in the school district.

Ryan scored 436 points to win in the 14-year-old category. Hummert had 457 points, top in the 15-year-old class.

Arnold won the 16-year-old division with 442 points. Bomberger had 403 points to win the 17-year-old grouping.

EACH BOY'S performance is scored according to his age group. Each boy was tested in push-ups, chin-ups, standing broad jump, 75-yard dash and 880-yard run.

Trophies will be awarded to the four winners.

Starting next year, this test will be administered to all boys twice a year. Records will be kept of each boy's score for a four-year period.

There are some defeats more triumphant than victories.

Babe Ruth Title to Lafayette

Outstanding pitching by Dave Sargent gave Lafayette's Babe Ruth baseball team three wins and the Diablo Valley League championship this week.

Lafayette defeated Martinez, 3-1, last Thursday in the final league game of the season to throw the league race in the three-way tie with Danville and Saturday in Danville, Lafayette edged Orinda, 3-2, to set up the title game with Danville who had drawn a bye in the special playoff.

TUESDAY evening, Lafayette used the "squeeze play" to

Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at Alhambra High School in Martinez, the Diablo Valley Babe Ruth League All-Star team will face the El Cerrito-Albany Babe Ruth All-Stars in the first elimination round in the far-reaching Babe Ruth baseball tournament.

The All-Star team will have players representing all five Diablo Valley squads — Martinez, Danville, Lafayette, Orinda and Pinole.

A win Saturday will send the DV team into Sunday Contra Costa County semifinals game against Antioch.

score three runs, defeating Danville, 4-1.

Sargent pitched all three games, giving up three hits to Martinez and Danville and four to Orinda.

The Contra Costa County championship will be played Monday at 5:30 p.m. All games are at the Alhambra High School field.

The winner will then represent Contra Costa County in the District 6 championship at Burlingame next weekend.

Jim Tucker, Jim Medak, Ron Medak all had two hits to pace the win over Martinez.

Against Orinda, Lafayette bunched five of its hits off Mike Little in the fourth inning to score its three runs. Jim Medak's single scored two runs and he scored himself on Jeff Campbell's single.

Four Orinda runners were thrown out at the plate in the pitcher's battle that saw Sargent strike out nine and Little whiff seven.

LAFAYETTE collected only three hits off the offerings of Danville's Dave Stewart, two of them bunt singles.

Lafayette picked up one run in the first on a walk to Roger Montalbano, a stolen base, a sacrifice and Mike Leabody's squeeze bunt.

In the fifth, Lafayette picked up two more on Campbell's perfect squeeze bunt and R. Medak did the same to score Campbell. Both players beat out their bunts.

In the sixth, Montalbano slammed a clean single, stole second, moved to third on an infield out and scored on an error by the shortstop.

Danville got its only run in the final inning as they collected two of their three hits off Sargeant.

Orinda Netters Lead In Contra Costa Tennis

Orinda downed Lafayette, 11-1, and Sleepy Hollow defeated Pleasant Hill, 9-3, while Danville and Walnut Creek split, 6-6, last week in the boys' division of the Contra Costa Junior Tennis League.

In the girls' division, Orinda defeated Lafayette, 11-1, Danville downed Walnut Creek, 10-2, and Pleasant Hill tied Sleepy Hollow, 6-6.

The race in the boys' division is still close after three weeks of play. The total points for each team in the past three weeks' action shows Orinda out in front with 23, Danville second with 20, and Sleepy Hollow third with 18.

Orinda surged farther out in front in the girls' division with 33 points. Tied for second are Danville and Sleepy Hollow with 23.

The combined boys' and girls' totals show Orinda out in front with 56, Danville second with 43, and Sleepy Hollow third with 41.

Boat Owners Reminded To Claim Tax Refunds

State Controller Alan Cranston has once again reminded California's pleasure boat owners to claim gasoline tax refunds they have coming.

Cranston said a goodly number of boat owners apparently are neglecting to submit claims for refunding of the six cent state tax on a gallon of gasoline. The tax is refunded for gasoline used for other purposes than travel on streets and highways.

"Last year the State refunded $203,368 to 8633 pleasure boaters," said Cranston. "We think there are considerably more who are eligible for refunds. We want them to be cognizant of their rights."

CRANSTON explained that unclaimed amounts are not entirely lost to boaters, however.

"The Legislature has appropriated $750,000 per year, representing the amount of money in the fuel fund attributable to the unrefunded tax on gasoline used in boats, to the Small Craft Harbor Revolving Fund. This money is used to help finance the development of small boat harbors and boating facilities."

The Controller explained that certain basic records should be kept. State law requires that a refund claim be supported by original invoices showing the name of the person who purchased and used the fuel. Thus, an invoice made out to "cash" is unacceptable.

The invoice also must show the date of the purchase, the name and address of the seller, the amount and kind of fuel purchased and the cost of the fuel including taxes.

Original credit card invoices, suffice to meet the legal requirement.

Claims can be submitted any time within 13 months after the purchase of the fuel. Refund forms with detailed instructions can be obtained by writing to the Controller's Division of Tax Collection and Refund, P. O. Box 1019, Sacramento 5.

Commission Sets Dove, Pigeon, Snipe Seasons

California Fish and Game Commission President William P. Elser announced this week that dove, pigeon, and snipe hunting seasons in California for 1962 will be virtually the same as in 1961, with the dates rolled back just one day to allow for a Saturday opening.

This was determined when the commission set the seasons within the framework issued July 11 by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service as follows:

DOVE—Season for both white-wing and mourning dove is September 1 through September 30. Limit is 10 daily and in possession, in the aggregate for both species.

PIGEON—Season for band-tailed pigeon in the following northern California counties, Del Norte, Siskiyou, Modoc, Lassen, Shasta, Humboldt, Trinity, Mendocino, Tehama, Butte, Glenn, Plumas, and Sierra, is September 29 through October 28; in the balance of the state it is December 15 through January 13, 1963. Limit is eight daily and in possession.

SNIPES—Season for Wilson's snipe (jacksnipe) is December 1 through December 30. Limit is eight daily and in possession. Shooting hours for all species is one-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

Migratory waterfowl regulations for California will be set by the Fish and Game Commission in August.

Mulching Is Good Practice

For such moisture loving shrubs as camellias, rhododendrons, azaleas and fuchsias, as well as roses, hibiscus, hydrangeas, to name a few, the application of a good thick mulch is sound gardening practice.

Few gardeners realize how much moisture is conserved by mulching. When laid thick enough, mulches will see drought-sensitive shrubs through many days of neglect. In fact, if you are gone only a week, mulching will usually carry your garden over until your return.

Use wet peat moss or steer manure and layer it good and thick around the shrubs you intend to mulch. A two-inch layer of either is about the minimum you should be satisfied with. A three-inch mulch is half again more effective. When using peat moss, be sure to soak it thoroughly before applying the mulch, or it will tend to withdraw moisture from the soil.

It seems trite to say, but according to the California Association of Nurserymen, you gardeners can't be reminded too often: Be sure to soak your garden from one end to the other before you head for the hills on vacation.

It's easy to become so involved in packing and planning that the last minute soaking is left undone. This is sheer folly, as it puts the burden of respon-

Five Tips for Better Garden

The California Association of Nurserymen recommends that gardeners do the following:

1. Shear hedges frequently. It's better for the hedge and far easier for the gardener.

2. Chrysanthemums should have their final cutting back about now. After this, let them grow on toward fall bloom.

3. Many vegetables, including snap beans and corn, can be planted still—or again.

4. Plant container grown fuchsias and tuberous begonias for quick color in your shade garden.

5. Stake and tie tomato plants to keep the harvest up off the ground and within easy reach.

Lawn Care Tips For Vacationers

With lawns, the California Association of Nurserymen offers this sound advice: Don't feed them just prior to your vacation departure. There's no need to encourage more rampant growth which will need cutting sooner than it should.

If you have a lawn sprinkling system, you're lucky; but if not, once again make it easy to do.

ability squarely on your shoulders. And, as we mentioned above, the idea is to make things as easy for him as possible . . . not to put him to a test.

Gardening Fun In Seed Packets

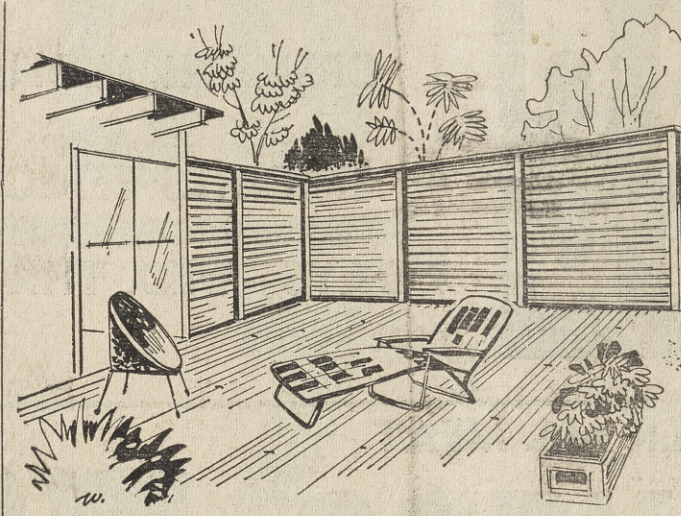

Gardeners with a do-it-yourself tendency can have a flat full of fun by growing their own annuals and perennials from seed. The method takes longer but it yields a bumper harvest of satisfaction at the same time.

The happiest gardeners are often those who can point to a bed full of lovely stocks or snapdragons or to a border of primroses and say, "Those are mine. I grew them from seed."

IF THIS appeals to you, your first step should be toward the green, white and yellow sign of your neighborhood California Association of Nurserymen member. CAN members can supply you with the needed ingredients—a flat or two, a soil mixture, and, most important of all, fresh seed. This matter of freshness is all important to insure good germination.

As many of you know, it is not necessary to sow all seeds in flats, for some of them will do well sown directly in the ground. Alyssum and portulaca are two such, and they can be sown this month for fall bloom. Calendula, annual phlox and nasturtium may also be sown directly in the ground. Even marigolds will bloom this fall if you poke their seeds in a sunny bed now.

FLAT GROWING is best for the majority of annuals and perennials, however. In mild winter areas, seed of winter stocks and snapdragons, pansies, violas and cineraria should be

TO GAIN privacy or control weather for your wood lounge deck, handsome screens around the perimeter might be the answer. These were built of Douglas fir. sown in flats this month for planting out in late August and September. Throughout the state, such perennial favorites as delphinium, columbine, primrose, gaillardia, sweet William and Transvaal daisy may be started now or in August. These are for bloom next spring and summer and will be set out in the garden this fall.

Before we count our blooms, however, let's get them planted. For sowing in the open ground, work up a seedbed that is as free of clods as you can make it. The smoother the surface, the better. Then simply sow the seed in the ground according to directions on the back of the seed packet.

IT IS A GOOD idea to plant twice as much as you plan to keep, for this takes possible failures into account. The seedbed should be kept moist at all times, and, if possible, shaded with a cover of burlap until the young plants are well up.

For flat seeding, use a mixture of two parts good garden loam or compost, plus a part each of river sand and leaf mold. Then sieve the lot through an eight-of-an-inch mesh. Chances are that your nurseryman has soil ready mixed for seeding, and this can be purchased inexpensively.

IF THE BOTTOM boards of the flat you use are not spaced sufficiently to permit good drainage, holes should be made in them. Then fill the flat with the soil mix to within half an inch of the top and firm it down gently.

The actual planting will vary according to the size of the seed. Fine seed may be broadcast over the surface and barely covered with a finely sieved mixture or with fine-ground sphagnum or peat moss from your nursery. Larger seeds may be sown in rows, usually about an eighth of an inch deep and never more than one-fourth inch.

FOR SEEDS sown in the open ground, use a fine mist spray and water them thoroughly, being sure to keep them moist as they germinate and sprout. Flat sown seeds are better watered by letting the flat stand in an inch or so of water until the soil is soaked all through. This is almost a must with fine seed, for top watering is apt to wash it around.

Cover the flat with a newspaper and set in a cool, shaded location until germination takes place. When this is well along, remove the cover. The first leaves will be seed leaves. The second will be true leaves of the plant.

ONCE THESE have formed, the tiny seedlings may be thinned out to two inches apart or, better, pricked out and transferred to another flat, which method gives a greater yield of plants. Use a pencil to poke holes in the soil and drop the tender transplants into them.

Perennials take longer than annuals to sprout—often it's a matter of weeks. Don't be discouraged by this wait, for they will come along in due time.

Rearview mirrors, points out the National Automobile Club, have not eliminated the need for giving stop and turn signals.

Summer Color Is Yours For The Planting

There's one thing about summer color in California gardens. It may thin out on occasion due to vacation neglect or lack of foresight, but there's always plenty of it waiting at the corner nursery. Annuals that give quick bloom, plus perennials and shrubs already in bloom are yours for the planting when a color transfusion is called for.

WE WERE reminded of this by a note from the California Association of Nurserymen extolling the virtues of the newer lantanas which member nurserymen have been offering in recent years.

These are an ever-improved breed which can be relied on for color through much of the year, but most especially in the good old summertime. They like it hot, and no doubt about it.

GARDENERS OFTEN fail to take advantage of the lantana's willingness to bloom under conditions of neglect, poor soil—anything but shade. The CAN suggests growing them not only as trailers for banks and wall tops, but as tubbed or hanging basket specimens. The dwarf lantanas such as the pink Christine or the orange-red Radiation are well suited to such culture. They need only trimming back on occasion to keep them compact.

A real breakthrough in lantanas came some years ago when the brilliant yellow hybrid, Gold Rush, was introduced. Today, CAN nurserymen offer Gold Rush Improved and a number of newer hybrids in several good color combinations. These are mostly spreading shrubs, but more refined than the familiar lavender trailer of old.

TRY THESE next time you run out of summer color. In fact try them before that. The newer lantanas are too good to wait for.

A trip to the nursery this week will serve to remind you, also, that container grown roses provide the gardener with ready-made color when he needs it. And what color it is.

SIMPLY HAVE your nurseryman slit the container to facilitate removal, then plant the bush to the same depth—no deeper—than it was in the container. You might try roses in tubs, also. As a look at your nursery will prove, they are well adapted to container growing.

Bearded Iris Likes New Site

In planting new bearded iris varieties from your nursery, try to avoid a site from which an older iris planting has just been uprooted. These vigorous beauties have a way of rendering soil somewhat barren after several years.

If you have only one bed for iris, improve the soil by removing some of the old and replacing it with new soil and steer manure or compost from another part of the garden.

Fragrant Freesia Is Garden Delight

The delightfully fragrant freesia, a treasure of early spring gardens, has a very short dormant season, and the bulbs should go in the ground well in advance of most spring-blooming bulbs.

They will show up this month and next in CAN nurseries and the sooner you plant them after that, the better. Don't be shy with freesias. Mass them for the best effects.

Power Mower Can Be A Missile Launcher

OVER 20 million power mowers will be in operation trimming several times that number of American lawns this summer.

In the hands of their owners, neighbors who borrow them and school boys who earn spending money with them, each mower can account for many stretches of bent, fescue and Kentucky blue.

EACH SITE is a potential scene of mayhem.

A report published recently in the New England Journal of Medicine points out the rising tide of injuries caused by the rotary type of lawn mower which describes about nine out of 10 now in use.

These machines consist of a single blade which is made to beat over the grass like the blades of a helicopter beating on the air. As it whirls around the blade whips off all of the grass high enough to come into contact with it, and fires the cuttings out through a vent from which the operator is generally protected by some sort of metal shield.

Since the blade travels in the neighborhood of 4000 revolutions per minute it can pick up and throw material out at great speed. Objects have been clocked at 300 feet per second coming from the vents of rotary mowers.

THESE OBJECTS can include anything hidden in the grass, such as bits of gravel, chips of glass, or small pieces of metal.

Attention to the following points can increase its safety:

1. Since almost a third of the injuries from these mowers happen to bystanders, it would be wise to keep everyone well away from the machine. Remember a missile that travels 300 feet a second can cause injury at surprising distances.

2. Pick foreign objects out of the lawn before mowing. This is important for the safety of the operator, as well as others in the vicinity.

3. MANUFACTURERS are trying to make these devices as safe as possible. This is particularly difficult to accomplish with the models which retail at low prices. So if you own or purchase one of these cheaper machines, be especially careful.

4. Finally, for those who have small lawns, a hint from the greenskeepers on golf courses. These professionals may have all kinds of fancy equipment at their disposal yet they often choose hand mowers for areas of grass which must be kept in first class condition. And there's always the chance that you may benefit from the exercise.

Where Did Tanagers Go?

By BARBARA BEDAYN

Where did those beautiful red, black and gold western tanagers go?

Just yesterday they were slipping silently through the top branches of the tall oaks behind St. Mary's College, peering interestedly at the lichen hung limbs shading Walnut Creek.

Surely this year a pair would linger to nest in our Monterey pine. But no, they left as silently as they came, with just a tantalizing glimpse of their bright beauty for us lowlanders.

But if you too, can spend a few days in our Sierra, scan the sugar pine branches, watch for a flash of yellow and red in the mountain hemlock. There he is, having savored our springtime, singing his approval of the Sierran springtime now unfolding.

This is his grassy glade. That is his grove of red fir. (This morning there was a slight argument with a western wood pewee who thought he owned the fir.)

There, the tanager flashes to the very top of the tallest fir, bare and garbled from repeated lightning thrusts, and sings his short, robin-like song to indicate possession.

His greenish yellow mate flies over to inspect the fir, but no, the white pine across the glade looks better. They nested there last year, and it has a homey look.

There she goes, lugging a twig almost the length of her blackbird-sized body, and deposits it firmly on a high horizontal limb.

The beautiful yellow and black male flutters to the icy trickle pouring from a grass ridge into snowbank, dips his red head into the sparkling water, drinks briefly, flies to the top of a young tamarack pine and sings in his sweet hoarse voice, "It's mine, it's mine, it's mine."

Summertime-- The Gardenin' Is Gettin' Easy

According to the California Association of Nurserymen, this is an ideal time to do the following in your garden:

1. Remove dying blooms from roses before they form seed pots. Remember that picking the blooms encourages continued bloom. For a more attractive shaped plant, cut just above an outside bud if the plant has an upright growth pattern.

2. Resist the temptation to remove foliage from spring-blooming bulbs until it has definitely died back.

3. Deciduous shade trees grown in containers may be planted anytime. Your CAN nurseryman can advise you which variety will serve your needs best.

4. Use a manure mulch on hibiscus and water the plants frequently. They love the rich soil and moisture which is native to them in the tropics.

5. Amateur seedsmen can try growing perennials such as columbine and delphinium from seed sown this month or next. The plants will bloom next year.

Mrs. Cavagnaro takes her grandson, Donald, on a final tour around soon-to-be-flooded Camanche.

84-year Camanche resident,
Nettie Cavagnaro, says:

"Camanche can never be a ghost town"

A town's a precious thing.

We wish we could provide water for you and your children without flooding Mrs. Cavagnaro's home town. But we can't, and still build a reservoir.

Camanche Dam and Reservoir, essential to your $283-million Water Development Program, mean that Camanche must disappear. But, as Mrs. Cavagnaro says, it will never be a ghost town.

We hope you'll remember the people of Camanche and their sacrifice for your future.

Railroad Rights-of-Way

The Bay Area's rapid transit system will share the rights-of-way of four major railroads in the bay region.

Consulting engineers for the Bay Area Rapid Transit District said the railroads will include the Western Pacific, Sacramento Northern, Santa Fe and Southern Pacific.

All told, they said, some 34 miles of the proposed 75-mile transit network will follow existing railroad routes.

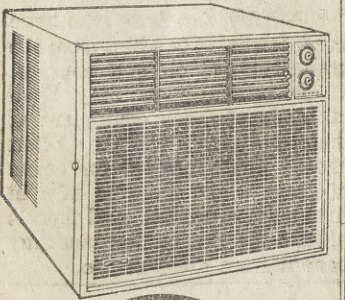

This in addition to 14 miles of the system which will be developed along automobile freeways in Alameda, Contra Costa and San Francisco counties.

MORE THAN 20 miles of the County from Oakland to Fremont transit network will be developed mont.

along the Western Pacific Rail- Another seven-mile transit road in southern Alameda line will follow the right-of-way of the Sacramento Northern Railroad in central Contra Costa County between Walnut Creek and Concord. An additional six-mile segment will be situated along the Santa Fe Railway between Berkeley and Richmond. The remaining mile-long segment will be located adjacent to the Southern Pacific's connecting spur on the Oakland Mole.

BARTD General Manager John M. Pierce said the planned use of railroad and freeway rights-of-way will allow for the most efficient use of existing transportation corridors — at a minimum cost in construction funds, land acquisition, and community disruption.

Twenty-one additional miles of the 75-mile network — aside from the 48 miles of railroad and freeway lines — will be developed along city streets, underground tunnels and beneath the bay.

He conquers twice, who upon victory overcomes himself.

Decorators Group Paints Former Colleague's Home

Last Saturday and Sunday the Contra Costa Chapter of the Painting and Decorating Contractors Association of America, painted the home of a retired charter member, Ray Turner, at 99 Mayhew Way, Pleasant Hill.

Turner, former business manager of the local chapter, was widely known for his many years of work in apprentice training, labor relations, and other efforts in behalf of the county and state chapters.

Members of the group painting the house were Albert Annis, Bob Edwards, Ray Goodrum, Vern Hartzell, Howard Watson, Bernard St. George, Harold Itanen, James Gibbs, Bill Sipes, Sam Swartz, and Dominic Del Monte.

Contributing the paint for the group project were W. P. Fuller

Co., Concord store, and Decorators Paints of Oakland.

Mrs. Turner served an old-fashioned picnic lunch to the members participating.

The local painting contractors' chapter plan to have a group painting project once each year as part of a public relations campaign.

Waldie Accepts Assignment of Ballot Writing

Assemblyman Jerome R. Waldie said today he has accepted with pleasure an assignment to co-author a ballot argument opposing adoption of Proposition 23 on the November election ballot, the southern-sponsored Senate reapportionment measure.

The measure proposes to add ten Senators to the present membership of the State Senate, with five of these coming from Los Angeles County.

Assemblyman Waldie, of Antioch, is majority leader of the Assembly. His statement said: "This measure would be of doubtful value even to Los Angeles County, and could be only detrimental to the interests of Contra Costa County and the remainder of the State.

"It would upset the traditional system of checks and balances in our Legislature under which the Assembly is chosen strictly on a population basis while the composition of the Senate gives some consideration for area.

"As an assemblyman, I appreciate the value of a truly bicameral legislature such as we have now.

Dr. Fein Is New Heart Group Prexy

First quarterly meeting of the board of directors of the Contra Costa County Heart Association was held last week with Dr. Irving Fein taking over the office of president.

Mrs. W. B. Marschner, treasurer, reported that total receipts for the past fiscal year were $68,854.12. Of this amount, $50,668.64 was collected during the February Heart Fund Drive. Memorial gifts accounted for about 20 per cent of the total, or $14,924.87.

Approximately two-thirds of the funds collected are retained by the local chapter for its programs of research, professional and public education and community service.

Another one-third is allocated to the American Heart Association and the California Heart Association. A large percentage of this amount is channeled to research into the heart diseases.

An additional amount of $18,300 of the local chapter funds have been allocated for research projects in the Bay Area, according to Dr. Mary L. Eilert, Walnut Creek, research committee chairman.

Next County Health Department immunization clinic for the Walnut Creek area will be held at the Presbyterian Church, 1720 Oakland Boulevard, from 2 to 4:45 p.m., on Wednesday, for all persons who have difficulty obtaining these services privately.

Immunization for polio, diphtheria-tetanus, whooping cough, and smallpox are available at the immunization clinic. Those 13 years of age and under must be accompanied by a parent or guardian, and those 14 to 21 must have a Health Department consent form signed by a parent or guardian.

The Health Department does not keep records of each individual's immunizations, and recommends that these be kept by the person or his family. Immunizations are best secured from one's own private physician who keeps permanent records of all services.

St. Mary's College Chapel Featured in Phone Book

St. Mary's College, observing its centennial year, is featured on the cover of August, 1962, telephone directory.

Some 125,000 copies of the new phone book will be distributed Wednesday, July 18, through Saturday, July 21, according to H. C. Greenhalgh, Pacific Telephone manager.

The cover, in full color, features the St. Mary's College

Chapel, a Moraga landmark.

The book contains 85,102 alphabetical listings, an increase of 5300 more than last year's book.

There are a total of 240 alphabetical and 656 classified pages. A total of 228 tons of newsprint was used in producing the new book.

The directory contains all numerical and telephone listings

Park Swim Team Wins First Meet

The Orinda Park swim team recently opened its 1962 swimming season by edging Sleepy Hollow, 186 to 143.

July 7, Orinda Park, Miramonte and Oak Springs participated in a three-way meet at the Orinda Park pool.

throughout. It also contains revised introductory pages giving geographic location of numerical prefixes, as well as additional direct distance dialing information.

County Sales Tax Tops in District

Contra Costa County was tops in the second equalization district of California in relative gain of taxable transactions subject to the state's three per cent retail sales and use tax during the first quarter of 1962, according to John W. Lynch, district member of the State Board of Equalization.

Taxable transactions in Contra Costa County amounted to $105,170,000, an increase of 12.1 per cent from the level of sales during the first quarter of 1961. The state's total of $5.7 billion during the first quarter was 6.3 per cent above the previous high reached in 1960 and eight per cent above taxable sales in the comparable period of 1961.

LYNCH STATED that taxable transactions in the 18 central counties comprising the second equalization district amounted to $1,063,956,000, six per cent more than the volume of similar sales during the initial quarter of 1961.

Most of the counties experienced moderate gains while four counties posted increases that equaled or exceeded the state average and only two sustained decreases from last year's level.

Among counties having high sales volumes the largest relative gain, the 121 per cent scored in Contra Costa compared with Alameda's one-third of all sales in this district, and Sacramento posting gains of six per cent.

Tulare with sales off fractionally from last year's level, was the only county in the district having a sizable volume of sales which failed to show an increase. Fresno, Kern, San Joaquin and Stanislaus counties recorded increases of four to five per cent.

DVC Instructor Named as Judge Of US Contest

Dick Worthen of Diablo Valley College is a judge of the National Council of Teachers of English Achievement Awards program for 1962.

Through the Achievement Awards program, now beginning its fifth year, the NCTE grants recognition to the nation's outstanding high school seniors for excellence in English. Recognition goes also to the English departments of high schools that have trained these students.

State judging committees, composed of English teachers from high schools and colleges, will evaluate the writing abilities and literary awareness of over 6300 candidates.

NCTE will announce the winners in December, 1962, and will send their names to every United States college and university with the recommendation that these students be considered for scholarship assistance.

'Iolanthe' Will Be Feature at Woodminster

The Lamplighters of San Francisco will present Gilbert and Sullivan's "Iolanthe" for one night, Saturday, July 28, at Woodminster Amphitheater, Joaquin Miller Park, Oakland.

This humorous satire was first presented at the Savoy Theater, London, November 25, 1882. The score is the most ingratiating ever written by Sullivan and harmonically more colorful than any of his others. Gilbert shows his great genius in "Iolanthe" as his lyrics are defter in rhyme and more captivating in meter. Many critics consider it one of their best works.

"Iolanthe's" Arcadian setting takes place during the 18th Century in the palace yard, Westminster, and this modern version plays for the first time at Woodminster Amphitheater. It is a delightful comic satire of the period.

Popular prices will be the same as at other musicals sponsored by the Oakland Park Commission. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m., with added parking areas now available without charge.

Ken White Goes to Insurance Confab

Ken White of the Ken White Insurance in Orinda, attended a meeting of the board of directors of the California Association of Insurance Agents recently at Monterey.

White is a member of the Contra Costa County Association of Insurance Agents.

CC County SS Benefits OK, UP 16%

Social Security benefits were being paid to 24,259 Contra Costa County residents at a rate of $1,686,291 per month, according to latest figures released by Morgan J. Shea, district manager of the Berkeley Social Security office. This is an increase of 16 per cent over the previous year.

"There are several reasons for the increase," Shea said. "More aged people are retiring; benefits are now payable at age 62, and it is easier to meet the eligibility requirements."

The average old-age benefit for the county is $80.50 per month. For the State of California the average is $76.80; for Alameda County, $78.94.

Library Has Large Lost, Found List

Have you or your children lost anything lately? If so, have you checked the public library? The Central Pleasant Hill library has a collection of articles ranging from sweaters and jackets, caps and shoes, to toys and sunglasses which have been left in the library during the past few months.

A telephone call to Mrs. Ida Shaw at the loan desk (935-6000, ext. 286, daytime; 935-6420 after 5 and on Sunday) might locate your missing property.

Visitors to the Central Pleasant Hill library during June have enjoyed the oil paintings of Louise Devol, local artist who has won prizes at the Contra Costa County Fair and the Diablo Pageant of Arts. The exhibit will last through Saturday.

Persons interested in history will wish to see the display in the lobby featuring a facsimile of the last newspaper printed in Vicksburg, Mississippi, before it fell to Union forces, together with a selection of some of the many books on the Civil War now being added to the county library's collection.

The facsimile is a gift made to the library by William Weil. Built around the theme "Out of the Past," the display in the rotunda case contains books on our American heritage plus an interesting old letter dated 1731

Erskine Caldwell, Noted Novelist, Moves to Moraga

Erskine Caldwell, best selling author, and his wife, Virginia, recently moved to the Moraga area. His mailing address is Post Office Box 397, Rheem.

Caldwell's two most famous novels are "Tobacco Road" and "God's Little Acre."

Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell move here from Nob Hill, San Francisco.

CALDWELL has lived many places since his birth in 1903 in Coweta County, Ga. His birthplace was so small that it didn't have a name.

The paperback of "God's Little Acre" sold over 20 million copies.

"RARELY we live in one place more than six months," Caldwell once said.

He was once married to photographer Margaret Bourke-White.

In 1933 the Yale Review gave him a $1000 reward for fiction.

During his diversified career, he has been a professional football player, cub reporter, seaman and editor.

Retirement Association To Invest in Mortgages

The County Employees Retirement Association will invest 2 million in guaranteed FHA and VA first mortgages to be serviced by the Bank of America, according to Benjamin O. Russell, association secretary. The decision was reached at a special meeting Monday. The retirement board had previously authorized investment of $320,000 in such mortgages. THE ADDITIONAL funds will be derived from the sale of approximately $1.7 million in municipal bonds that are approaching maturity. Sale of the bonds is necessary in order to realize capital gains and to permit the money to be reinvested in the mortgages, said board chairman Marvin King who did the special study that led to the decision to switch to mortgages. King said the returns on the $2 million investment would be 5.245 per cent, considerably higher than the yield in Triple A municipal bonds.

Mobile Library Announces Its Revised Schedule

A revised summer schedule for the Contra Costa County Library Bookmobile serving the central-eastern area of the county went into effect last Tuesday. The first stop of the day at 11 o'clock will be in the Alamo Plaza. This stop replaces the station library formerly housed in the Alamo Women's Club building. Now patrons in the Alamo area will have a chance once a week to use a collection that is constantly replenished with new and different books. Other stops included on Tuesday are at Saranap, Moraga, Canyon and Orchard Dell. NEW STOPS in the eastern area of the county were added in September, 1961. They are Bethel Island, Knighten and Forty Acres on Wednesday, Delta Fair on Thursday, Clayton Highlands and Crestwood on Friday, and Creekside on Saturday. These, along with the older established stops, have been able to serve areas that do not have easy access to libraries that are open daily.

Sun Receives NEA Honors For Promotion

The Sun has been selected as the nation's top weekly newspaper in the promotion category and was notified recently by the National Editorial Association that it had won the American Type Founders plaque.

Complete details of the prize winning are still lacking but will probably be disclosed when the plaque is personally presented to The Sun's publisher, Herman Silverman, currently touring Europe.

In announcing the winner the judges made this comment on The Sun:

"THE AWARD winning Sun went an additional step beyond the normal presentation by compiling in book form the 29 types of newspaper promotion carried out by the weekly newspaper."

"These were placed in chapter form with illustrations under each. This entry could be used as a case study book or example for others to follow."

Second place went to the Camden (N.Y.) Courier-Post and third was awarded the Mount Kisco (N.Y.) Patent Trader.

Thirty-two states were represented among the 96 papers which won in the various categories of this 77th annual contest sponsored by the National Editorial Association.

California and Illinois newspapers fared best among the 2580 entries with six first place winners each. New York was next with four winners. Categories extended from metropolitan dailies to weeklies with less than 2000 circulation.

IN ADDITION to winning the "promotion award for weekly newspapers" The Sun also received an honorable mention for its classified advertising department.

Board Considers Tighter Ammo Sales Ordinance

A proposed regulation restricting the sale of ammunition to children under 18 is under consideration by the County Board of Supervisors.

Purchase of cartridges by minors without the written consent of their parents would be prohibited by the proposed amendment to the county ordinance.

At the suggestion of Supervisor Edmund Linscheid of Pittsburg, the proposal was referred to the public protection committee for study and a recommendation.

LINSCHIED POINTED out that "according to state law, a youngster can obtain a hunting license when he is 16."

"I would hesitate to approve this without hearing the opinions of the various gun clubs and hunting organizations."

The ordinance was drawn up by District Attorney John Nejedly at the request of the board. They will decide on it within the next few weeks.

In other action, there were no bidders for the county's piece of property at Willow Pass Road and Contra Costa Highway, open for a minimum bid of $15,000.

THE PROPERTY was left over after relocation of Willow Pass Road. James Fears of the county right of way division said the property had one liability, access is allowed at only one point.

Dramateurs To Play 'Grassharp'

"Fun and excitement are the the outlook for theatregoers and amateurs this summer when Truman Capote's 'Grassharp' goes on the boards," according to Phillip Jelley, president of the Dramateurs.

Opening night is July 20, and curtain is as usual, 8:30.

"Plan your vacation return in a summer evening's enjoyment at Lafayette's Town Hall, and phone CL 4-5241 days, and CL 4-4419 evenings after 6 p.m.," said Jelley.

Several evenings are available for sponsors groups for this play, and for "Inherent the Wind," which will open in November.

All interested groups, phone Mrs. Fran von Loben Sels at AT 3-6623 concerning rates and evenings available.

The "Grassharp" will run for six weekends on Friday and Saturday nights. "Join the cast in a midsummer night's fancy free," said Jelley.

At the last meeting of the Dramateurs, a new slate of officers was elected.

Phil Jelley steps into the presidency from last year's post as vice-president.

Wirtabel Harris of Orinda will assume the active duties of vice-president. Betty Gordon will be secretary, and Beth Culp becomes the group's treasurer.

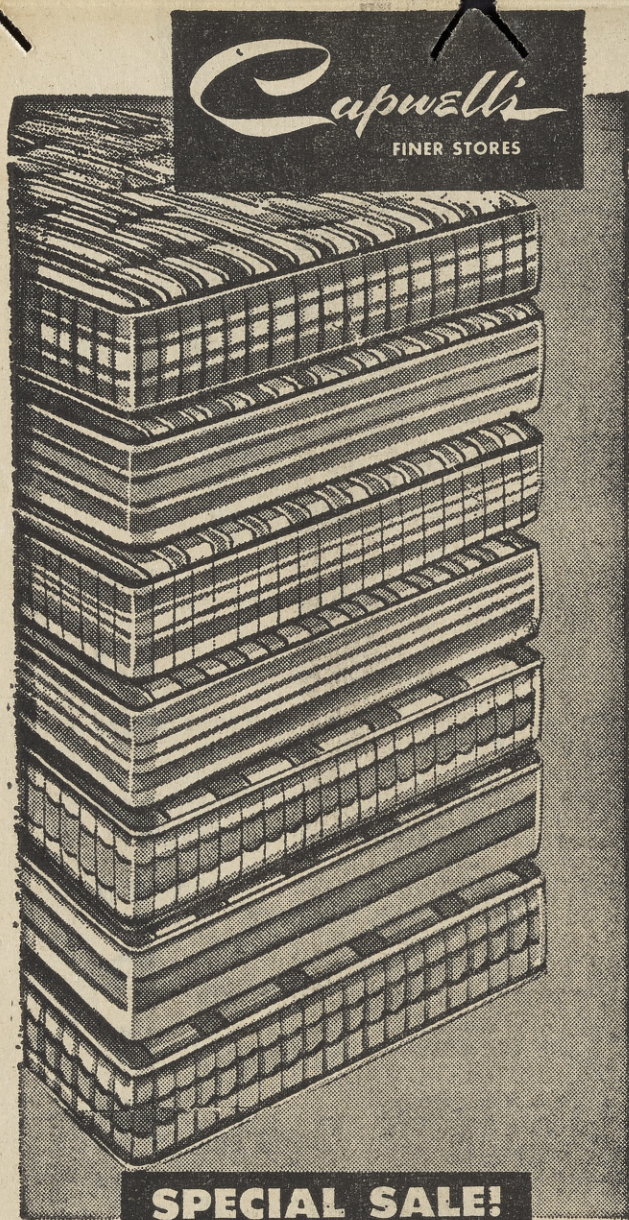

Shop Evenings At Broadway, It's for Family

Broadway Shopping Center is open both Monday and Friday nights. Most of the major stores are also open Thursday nights.

This makes it easy for the entire family to have a leisurely dinner and go shopping together, according to B. K. Horne, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association.

He said evening shopping at Broadway can be combined with other evening activities, and avoids the rush-rush of pre-dinner closing on two important days.
